University's Opposition To a "Developer Fee" Delays Public Hearing

Heeding the advice of its attorney, Borough Council last Tuesday night voted to postpone the developer fee ordinance public hearing until its next meeting, which is scheduled for Thursday, June 8.

The fee, which would be used to help the Borough pay for the construction or renovation of affordable housing, is being opposed by Princeton University. The developer fee ordinance would impose a one-half-of-one-percent fee on developers for residential construction and a one-percent fee for nonresidential construction.

In a memo to Borough Attorney Michael Herbert, Princeton University General Counsel Howard S. Ende wrote, "I find that Princeton has the right and the obligation to challenge legally the imposition of such fees."

On Tuesday, Pamela Hersh, Princeton's director of community and state affairs, said that legal action was an option.

She had stated earlier this month that the development fee would add about $2 million to the cost of upcoming construction in the Borough. Princeton University plans approximately $240 million in construction over the next five or six years. This would take place in both the Borough and Township.

At last week's Council meeting, Mr. Herbert said he wanted the opportunity to further study the views of Princeton University because a legal issue had been presented. He also said he believed Mr. Ende and senior members of his staff were planning to be at the June 8 public hearing. This will take place at 8 p.m. at Borough Hall.

Princeton Township has passed a similar ordinance, and both the Borough and Township developer fee or-

Actor Christopher Reeve in Serious Condition after Fall

Former Princeton resident Christopher Reeve was in serious but stable condition on Tuesday, after suffering a fall from a horse this weekend.

Mr. Reeve, who graduated from Princeton Day School in 1970, was taken by helicopter to the University of Virginia Medical Center for treatment of a neck injury.

An accomplished horseman, Mr. Reeve was one of 300 riders competing in the three-day horse trials sponsored by the Dressage and Combined Training Association of Culpeper, Va.

He completed the dressage portion of the trials on Saturday morning, and was beginning the open field jumping competition when the accident occurred. His horse was approaching the third jump on the 15-jump course, when it inexplicably balked, throwing Mr. Reeve forward and over its head.

Monk Reynolds, owner of Commonwealth Park, the equestrian facility where the event was held, said, "His horse just stopped dead and threw him — something spooked the horse."

University's 248th Commencement Observed in Time-Honored Fashion

Princeton University's long and proud tradition was in evidence as it celebrated its 248th Commencement Exercises Tuesday morning.

After a Memorial Day Weekend marked by thunder and lightning storms, once again the weather cooperated, and the graduation ceremonies were held outdoors in front of venerable Nassau Hall.

The University conferred a total of 1,727 bachelor and advanced degrees. The Class of 1995, including 626 men and 444 women, earned 888 bachelors of arts and 182 bachelors of science in engineering degrees.

Five hundred and six — or 47.3 percent — of the graduates received some form of honors: 94 highest honors, 169 high honors, and 243 honors; 46.2 percent of women received honors, and 48.1 percent of men.

The 657 advanced degrees included 300 doctors of philosophy, 241 masters of arts, 60 masters in public affairs, 21 masters of architecture, three masters of science, 26 masters of science in engineering, and six masters of fine arts.

The University also awarded seven honorary degrees. Lawrence Stone, of Moore Street, longtime Princeton professor of history, and now Dodge Professor of History, Emeritus, was awarded an honorary doctor of humane letters.

Professor Stone was cited for having "dared to pursue the Big Questions in history. His research and scholarship have transformed entire fields of study, resulting in monumental works, keystones of our understanding about how societies are joined together or pulled apart."

Clifford J. Geertz of Newlin Road, anthropologist, and Harold F. Linder Professor of Social Sciences at The Institute for Advanced Study, received an honorary doctor of humane letters. A member of the faculty of The Institute since 1970, Dr. Geertz's citation read, in part: "Instead of reducing cultures to general laws or bottom lines, he has

Democratic Voters Pick Reed or Freda Tuesday

Borough voters will go to the polls on Tuesday to decide who will be the Democratic candidate for Mayor of Princeton Borough in the November 7 election. The primary contest is between incumbent Mayor Marvin Reed and Borough Council President Mark Freda. Both men have served in Borough government for many years, and both enjoy wide support.

The winner of the Tuesday primary will face Republican Ray Wadsworth in the November 7 general election.

The only other primary contest — in both Borough and Township — is for County Clerk. Democrat Ted Yim is challenging Marge Caldwell-Wilson, who is supported by the regular Democratic Organization.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Polling places are shown on page 2.

Mr. Reeve, who was wearing a helmet, landed on his head, causing serious injury to his neck. He was carried from the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital in Culpeper; soon afterward he was transferred to Charlottesville by Medivac helicopter.

Mr. Reeve's wife, Dana, and 3-year-old son, Will, were with him in Virginia, but did not witness the accident. His mother, Barbara L. Johnson, of Wilton Street, Assistant Editor of TOWN TOPICS, has traveled to Charlottesville to be with the family.

Also with the Reeve family in Virginia are Mr. Reeve's two children, Matthew, 15, and Alexandra, 11, and their mother Gae Exton, who all flew in from England on Monday. Joining his son shortly, will be Franklin Reeve, of Vermont.

Following his graduation from PDS, Mr. Reeve attended Cornell and studied acting at the Juilliard School.

Best known for playing the role of Superman in four major feature films, Mr.
Reeve's acting career has landed him roles in many motion pictures.

There are 1,563 registered
Democrats in Princeton Borough, all of whom may vote in the primary. In addition, the Borough's 2,566 unaffiliated voters may choose to vote in the Democratic primary by declaring their party affiliation as Democrat.
The Borough also includes 639 registered Republicans and 19 registered Independents.

There are no primary contests for either Borough Council or Township Committee.

In the Borough, Democrats
Roger Martindell and Sandra

dinances have been approved by the State Council on Affordable Housing (COAH).
Ms. Hersh said that the University has been talking with the Township about its ordinance, and Borough Council President Mark Freda expressed the hope that the Borough and University might be able to reach some compromise that would prevent legal action.

He said that conversations with University officials indicated there was only one project this season that might be affected by the ordinance, and he added that the ordinance could be amended if it were passed.

"Other construction takes place in the Borough," said Mr. Freda. "Why should we miss the opportunity to get a developer fee because of objections by the University?
There might be a way for us to make an agreement on their contributing to affordable housing without the ordinance. The Borough is willing to do that."

HERD OF TIGERS? The annual P-rade was the high point of the reunion celebrations on the Princeton University campus this weekend, as hundreds of alumni crowded into town for a weekend of reminiscing. Shown here is the front of the parade, which wound through campus and down Nassau Street featuring the University's oldest living alumnus, 100-year-old Steven Hirsch, class of 1917.

Council Grants Relief To Second-Story Stores

After hearing requests by several proprietors of stores located on the second story of buildings on Nassau Street, Borough Council last Tuesday night granted such businesses temporary permission to place A-frame signs on the sidewalks. These signs would inform passersby of the existence of stores on the upper levels.

Borough ordinance currently forbids such signs, but Council agreed to allow them until the governing body can take up the matter again. Council President Mark Freda said he intended to bring the sidewalk display ordinance back to Council, and that he would like to deal with the issue of A-frames at that time.

Joseph Bair, owner of Small Change Homebrew Depot, 82 Nassau Street, said his business went down when he was told by Zoning Officer Frank Slimak to remove his

A-frame sign. Mr. Slimak did this in his efforts to enforce the Borough ordinance.

"I will need all the support and name recognition that I can reasonably ask, to survive," said Mr. Bair. "I believe it is vital that I have an A-frame on the sidewalk outside my store."

Scott Melzer, manager of Marple Comics II at 82 Nassau Street, said second-floor stores needed street-level ex-posure, and that he had noticed a sizeable increase in the number of people who knew he was there after he put out the A-frame sign.

TOPICS Of the Town

After noting that the issue would be discussed when it was brought back to Council by Mr. Freda, Mayor Marvin Reed said that development of second-floor retail and below-grade retail was very desirable for the Borough. "They provide a different mix of stores in the center of town."

Contract Is Awarded For Jugtown Streets

Borough Council last Tuesday night accepted a bid of $673,126 from Tarheel Enterprises, Inc., Morgan, for the reconstruction of Markham Road, Pelham Street, Sergeant Street, and Wilton Street.

This was the second-lowest bid of five received by the Engineering Department. The first, from M&M Concrete, Inc., of Old Bridge, was withdrawn.

Construction of these four Jugtown streets may start four weeks from the day of awarding the contract, Borough Assistant Engineer Scott Whitlock told Mayor and Council.

He added that the pre-construction meeting with residents would probably be held a week or two prior to the beginning of construction.

Mayor Marvin Reed noted that the cost to Borough taxpayers will be less than the amount of the contract. This is because the Borough will be reimbursed $175,000 from the Sewer Operating Committee for sewer work and will receive additional money from assessments on property owners.

Council also approved two bond ordinances, totaling $277,000, for a number of capital improvements. These include the acquisition of a dump truck with snow plow; benches, tables, trash cans, mowers and other equipment; parking meters; and various equipment for the Police Department.

Also funded through these bond ordinances was the acquisition of various equipment for the Fire Department; a lead analyzer for the

The sum of $90,750 will be used for the Borough's share of the acquisition of various equipment for and improvements to the Public Library.

Compliance measures involve creating an accessible restroom, installing an automatic front door and handrail, and modifying the entrance, elevators, and signage.

1995 Municipal Budget Is Approved by Council

A $14 million 1995 Borough municipal budget was approved by Council last Tuesday night. The vote was 4-2, with Councilmen Roger Martindell and Arthur Saylor voting against the budget.

Borough taxpayers will see their municipal tax rate go up by 6 cents in 1995, to $1.07 per $100 of assessed valuation. On a home assessed at the Borough average of $149,000, this would mean a tax of $1,594, an increase of $89 over last year.

Council also approved an increase of $4 in the sewer rate, from $37 to $41 per 1,000 cubic feet of water.

For the first time, the Borough is taking advantage of its legal right to apply up to five percent of sewer fees toward the municipal budget.

In the early months of budget preparation, Council anticipated an 8-cent increase in the tax rate. But the

More Route 1 Changes

The New Jersey Department of Transportation will hold a public information center this Wednesday, May 31, to discuss proposed improvements at the intersection of Route 1/Franklin Corner Road in Lawrence Township, Mercer County.

The information center will be held between 4 and 7 p.m. in the Lawrence Branch of the Mercer County Public Library, 2751 Brunswick Pike, Lawrenceville.

The proposed project includes widening Route 1 at the intersection and extending the existing northbound and southbound ramps away from Route 1 to improve traffic flow. New traffic signals will be installed where the ramps intersect the side streets.

Project plans and maps will be available for public review at the information center and NJDOT staff will be present to answer questions on an informal basis.

For further information, call Alexander Brown, public affairs officer, at (908) 308-4096.

amount was reduced through budget trimming and through the use of the sewer money.

The budget includes a salary increase of 4 percent for most non-union employees. Under the Police Benevolent Association (PBA) contract, Borough police will get a 5 percent raise. Public Works and Sewer Operating Committee employees, covered under a Communications Workers of America (CWA) contract, are scheduled to receive a 4.8 percent salary increase.

The $14 million budget is about $145,000, or one percent, less than last year's. The total 1995 unofficial property tax rate for Borough property owners is $4.24, up seven cents from last year. This figure includes the municipal, school, and County tax, plus a two-cent Greenacres tax.

PU Bike Thief Arrested After Mother Calls Cops

There will be no intimidation of the witness in this case. A 13-year-old Hightstown boy was charged with stealing a bicycle from the Princeton University campus after his own mother turned him in to the Borough police. Police chief Tom Michaud reported on Tuesday that the young man, whose name was not released due to his age, was spotted lurking around campus bike racks in the month of April. An officer in the University's Department of Public Safety detained the boy and made a phone call to his mother, apprising her of what her son had been up to.

ed to look in his room last week, and she spotted a bicycle that she knew did not belong to him. She phoned the authorities, and then brought both her son and the bicycle to the campus. The $600 Giant brand bike was returned on May 29. According to police, it had been reported stolen on March 2, more than a month before the initial call to the child's mother was made. The boy was released into his mother's custody pending action by the juvenile officer.

Missing Wallets

A wallet was taken from an unattended pocketbook at the Princeton Nursing Home on Quarry Street last Wednesday. According to police, the wallet was taken between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m. It had been left on a bookcase near a second floor nurse station. It contained $25 in cash and various cards and personal items. A Hopewell resident left her wallet unattended on a bench on Nassau Street near Woolworth's last Wednesday, and returned to find that it had been stolen. The wallet contained only $16 in cash, but was itself valued at $400.

Police arrested 40-year-old Patricia Payne of 92 Leigh Avenue for shoplifting last week. According to reports, Payne was caught leaving Davidson's Market with $6.17 in goods, including cookies, corn muffin mix, and sneaker dressing.

She was released with a summons to appear in court on June 5.

A motor vehicle stop on Stockton Street Monday morning turned into a drug arrest. Police pulled over a car owned by William A. Gall Sr., 35, of Somerville, after an in-car computer check revealed Gall's license to be suspended.

While Mr. Gall was looking for his car's documentation, one of the officers saw a clear plastic wrapper containing a white powder later identified as methamphetamines, or speed.

Mr. Gall was charged with driving on a revoked license as well as possession of a controlled dangerous substance. He was released with a summons to appear in court on June 5.

An Onkyo brand CD player was stolen from a Witherspoon Hall dorm room on campus between 5:18 and 6:30 p.m. on May 23. The $215 piece of equipment was taken while the room was unlocked and unattended.

Cash totaling $110 was taken from an unlocked and unattended Laughlin Hall dorm room between 7:30 p.m. on May 23 and 6:45 p.m. the next evening.

Twice In One Night

Arturo Garcia Montenegro, 23, of Hamilton, was charged with disorderly conduct after police were called to deal with him on two occasions the same evening.

Police received a call at 1:30 a.m. on May 22 saying that a man was causing a disturbance and vandalizing a payphone near the Nassau Street taxi stand.

Police responded, and a witness saw Montenegro walking on Witherspoon Street near Hulfish. The witness identified him as the perpetrator, and police recognized him as a man involved in a loud public argument that had required their attention earlier that night.

He was not arrested, but will be required to answer the disorderly conduct charge in court.

The telephone in question turned out to be only slightly damaged, and still works.

A refrigerator left in a dormitory hallway to defrost is now cooling a thief's groceries.

A University student reported that the small fridge was left in a hallway in Brown Hall at 2 a.m. on May 20; by 7 a.m. that morning, it had been stolen. It was valued at $120.

A bicycle was stolen from outside Brown Hall during a similar time frame. Between 3 and 11 a.m. on May 20, a Mongoose brand bike valued at $200 was taken from the Hall's courtyard. It had been locked to itself.

Township Police Report Week of Petty Crimes

Township police arrested James O. Bloxom Jr., 29, after he offered false information to an officer. He was stopped on The Great Road as the result of a random in-car computer check of his license plates, which the arresting officer carried out.

The arrest occurred at 7:20 on Monday morning, at which time Bloxom gave a false name to the officer. Bloxom's identity was eventually established, and he was charged with driving with a suspended license, failure to have required documents in his possession while driving, and obstruction of justice.

A delicatessen and a dry cleaner's, both in the same shopping center on Route 206 north, were broken into between 10:55 p.m. on May 19 and 7:45 a.m. the next morning. The front doors of both stores were shattered.

Both stores had a small amount of money stolen, all of which was in coins. The shattered doors were valued at $250 each.

A thief cut the cable locking a fence around a Princeton University storage area and stole several items from the bed of a truck parked there.

According to police, sometime between 7:30 p.m. on May 23 and 5:50 a.m. the next morning, the thief made off with an $80 leaf blower, a $50 chain saw, and a $400 Honda generator.

Police and fire fighters responded to a small garage fire in the Egget residence at 24 Gulick Road at 4:16 p.m. on May 22.

According to reports, the fire was extinguished before any structural damage could be done to the house.

While no cause has been conclusively determined, a contractor working at the house was known to be storing painting supplies, which may have contributed to the blaze, in the garage.

A mailbox in front of a Mount Lucas Road home was smashed sometime between midnight and 7 a.m. on May 21. The damaged property was valued at $60.

A man's wallet containing $650 in cash was reported stolen from the Hilltop Park bathroom between 9:30 and 9:50 p.m. on May 22. The wallet was left unattended in the bathroom for that period of time.

On Saturday, police arrested Paul E. Mayer Jr., 24, of Doylestown, Pa. He was stopped for speeding on Alexander Street at 1:04 a.m.

The officer determined that he was intoxicated, and arrested him for driving while intoxicated. He was released to a family member.

A man who identified himself as Antonio Lopez of Troop Street in New Brunswick, was arrested Monday evening after Township officer Joanne Malta noticed that the car he was driving had license plates that did not match.

The man was under the influence of alcohol and unable to produce any form of identification. He was still being held by police on Monday morning, pending a positive identification.

He is charged with driving while intoxicated, having an open container of an alcoholic beverage in the car, driving with no license, driving an uninsured car, driving an unregistered car, driving an uninspected car, and driving a car with fictitious plates.

Township Court

In Township Court this week, Shirley D. Ashe of 61 Redding Circle was fined $325 and had her license revoked for 12 months for driving an uninsured vehicle.

Abhijit A. Chitnis of 1E Marten Road, was fined $85 for speeding.

Younghee Kahng, 12 Andrews Lane, was fined $85 for speeding.

Ranganath Krishnan of Princeton Junction was fined $125 for failure to yield the right of way at an intersection.

Anatoli Levacher, 206 Witherspoon Street, was fined $150 for failure to observe laws pertaining to stopped school buses.

Revia J. Louis of 75 Clay Street was fined $775, received a one-day jail sentence equated to time served in court, and will lose her license for 30 days. She was charged with driving on a revoked license, and failure to have required documents in her possession while driving.

International Conference At Woodrow Wilson Sch.

A two-day international conference on "Communities and Self-Administration" will be held at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs on Friday and Saturday, June 9 and 10, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. in Robertson Hall, Bowl 1.

The conference is being conducted under the auspices of the School's Liechtenstein Research Program on Self-Determination, a division of the Center of International Studies.

"Self-determination has been one of the major unsolved problems of this century, the cause of many wars and a huge amount of human suf-

MAYOR MARV REED

Endorsed by the Princeton Community Democratic Organization

After being chosen Princeton Borough Mayor in 1990, Marv Reed was elected by a wide margin in 1991 to a full four-year term. Now he again seeks your support for:

- ✓ Maintaining quality service with leaner Borough budgets; reorganizing government to hold the line on operating costs.
- ✓ Keeping commitments to rebuild neglected streets and sidewalks.
- ✓ Battling trucks and traffic; protecting pedestrians.
- ✓ Pressing for more senior housing and senior services; moving ahead on affordable housing.
- ✓ Saving the "Garden"; bringing back a lively downtown.
- ✓ Encouraging new restaurants; saving family-owned shops; preserving our commercial tax base.
- ✓ Keeping a strong cultural center; improving the Library; saving the Arts Council; linking students to the community.
- ✓ Improving parks, playgrounds, street tree maintenance.
- ✓ Working closely with the Township and other nearby municipalities to expand joint services, promote cooperative efficiency, and control growth throughout the region.

fering," said Prince Hans Adam II, the ruling prince of Liechtenstein, who will attend the conference. "We should all endeavor to solve this problem for the next century."

The conference will consist of a panel discussion organized around the presentation of research papers that analyze and discuss the general implications of self-determination and self-administration as well as a proposed U.N. charter on self-determination drafted by Prince Hans Adam II and Sir Arthur Watts, former legal adviser to the Foreign and Commonwealth Office in England. After the papers are presented, each will be discussed by two commentators and the audience of experts.

Other participants will include academics, ambassadors and other representatives from more than 50 countries, including England, France, Germany and Russia.

The Liechtenstein Research Program was founded by a grant from Prince Hans Adam II.

Princeton and the AFS Highlighted in Exhibit

The American Field Service and Princeton University held a reception at the University's Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library in honor of Princeton undergraduates and alumni who have worked for the American Field Service ambulance corps and its student exchange program, AFS Intercultural Programs.

The reception highlighted the exhibit entitled "AFS and Princeton," which tells the story of the bond between AFS and Princeton University. The exhibition features photographs, paintings, graphic illustrations, prints, posters, artifacts, publications and original documents from the permanent collection of AFS Archives and Museum in New York City. The event also marked the donation by AFS of its 300-volume Napoleonic history collection to the Rare Book Collections of the Firestone Library at Princeton.

Speaking at the reception were Richard Spencer, president of AFS Intercultural Programs; Jennifer Froisland, president of AFS/USA;

Benjamin Primer, Princeton University Archivist; and Steve Ferguson, curator of Rare Books for Princeton University Libraries. Princeton AFS ambulance drivers in attendance included John Hendrickson ('44) and Peter Warren ('45). Other drivers in attendance included Tom Cook, Frank Lichtensteiger, John Smith and Lou Auger.

The founder of the American Field Service, A. Piatt Andrew, was an 1893 Princeton graduate, and more than 100 Princeton men served in the American Field Service during each world war. After World War II, Princeton alumni, including John Harmon, class of '42, Donald Coster '25, Ward Chamberlin '43, and Alan Stuyvesant '27, were prominent in creating the very first high school exchange programs in 1947.

Free Cone Day Sets New Record for Eden

Ben & Jerry's Scoop Shops in Forrestal Village and Rutgers University set a new fund-raising record at their third annual Free Cone Day, which was held April 7.

Owners Mickey and Shelley Morrell distributed 5,700 free ice cream cones to customers, who turned out in droves on one of the first sunny and warm days of spring. Recipients were asked to make a voluntary donation to support the Eden Family of Services, a Princeton organization serving children and adults with autism. By 8 p.m., when the store closed, patrons had contributed $1,540 — nearly twice the store's previous record of $800.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrell had set a goal of $1,000, and were thrilled with the response.

Princeton Artist Joins Berlin Holocaust Event

At the invitation of the Schoeneberg district government of the city of Berlin, Princeton artist Lilli Gettinger took part in the 50th anniversary commemoration of the Holocaust during the first week of May.

A special exhibit of her art, which relates to the events being commemorated, opened on May 6 at the Schoeneberg Museum; and she was included in an official publication as one of 92 historical witnesses and prominent personalities of culture and science who had lived in the Schoeneberg district. Ms. Gettinger also met with 11th grade students in one of the Schoeneberg high schools to discuss her recollections about life under Nazi rule.

The exhibit of Ms. Gettinger's work consists of 20 pictures with accompanying texts taken from an autobiographical cycle of 233 pastels entitled "Dream Voyage." Done more than 25 years after the events of the Holocaust, these pictures revisit the experience of growing up as a Jewish child in Berlin during the '30s, her flight from Norway after the Nazi invasion, and her reaction to learning about the opening of the extermination camps.

The Shoeneberg district had the highest concentration of Jewish residents in Berlin when Hitler came to power in 1933, particularly in the neighborhood known as the "Bavarian quarter." The 92 historical witnesses and prominent personalities were former residents of this neighborhood (among them Albert Einstein), whose biographies make up a large part of the second volume of Places of Remembrance; Jewish Daily Life in the Bavarian Quarter, published by the Schoeneberg Museum.

Many of these personalities perished during the Holocaust; others survived the extermination camps, went underground or emigrated, as did Ms. Gettinger.

Two YW Craft Classes Are Scheduled for June

A handmade paper bowl workshop and class in Hawaiian quilting are planned at the Princeton YWCA in June.

Betty Cooper has studied Hawaiian quilting at the Bishop Museum in Honolulu and will share her knowledge at a two-session workshop on Thursday, June 1 and 8, from 9:30 to noon on the Bramwell House porch. In this style of quilting, a single design is formed by folding fabric in eighths, cutting it like a paper snowflake and then appliqueing it to a contrasting fabric and quilting to echo the shape of the applique. Ms. Cooper will provide patterns and ideas and exhibit her Hawaiian quilts.

Hand-sewing ability is a must and knowledge of applique is helpful. The fee is $25.

On Saturday, June 17 Judy Lass will teach a handmade paper bowl workshop from 10 to 1, also on the Bramwell House porch. Students will create a decorative vessel, first making the paper and then casting a bowl. Some

"Living with Arthritis" Topic of a Public Forum

The Arthritis Foundation, New Jersey Chapter and Princeton Medical Center will co-sponsor a free public forum, "Living with Arthritis," on Tuesday at 1:30 in the ground floor conference room of the Medical Center, 253 Witherspoon Street.

Guest speakers will be local rheumatologist Marc Storch, M.D., who will present an overview of the signs and symptoms of arthritis, and its treatment options, and physiatrist Ronald Gonzalez, M.D., who will discuss the role of exercise and physical therapy in arthritis care. A question-and-answer period will follow and free literature will be available.

Seating is limited and pre-registration is required. To register, call the Arthritis Foundation at (908) 283-4300.

Workshop, Support Group Announced by YWCA

The Princeton YWCA will hold a workshop to explore the mother-daughter connection Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. It will be led by Robin Fein, a social worker. The fee is $15 for YW members, $20 for nonmembers.

The YWCA is also holding a support group for divorced and separated men and women on the third Friday of the month from 7 to 9 in the YM-YWCA library. It will be led by Ms. Fein and Ashley Zeresky.

For information and to register call 497-2100.

Deaf Information Line Available This Summer

Area residents who have questions about services for hearing-impaired children are invited to call the Deaf Information and Family Helpline at 530-3186. This service will begin June 21 and will be available from 4 to 7 p.m. every Wednesday during June, July, and August.

Calls are welcome from parents, relatives, child study teams, caseworkers, collaborative members, and other interested individuals.

Information will be available on support groups, educational options, evaluation services, tutorial services, and referral services.

The program is a service of Katzenbach School for the Deaf through a grant funded by the Central Jersey Regional Early Intervention Collaborative.

Trip to The Cloisters And Wave Hill Estate

Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will sponsor a bus trip Thursday, June 8, to Wave Hill, a beautiful estate in the Riverdale section of the Bronx, and to The Cloisters, a museum of the Middle Ages located nearby.

Designated an historical and environmental landmark, Wave Hill has sweeping views of the Hudson River and the Palisades. Its mission is to "study and teach the interaction between culture and the land, and between human activity and the natural processes. Marco

Polo Stufano, director of horticulture since 1967, has created a series of small-scale gardens amid this Hudson River landscape.

After a box lunch, the group will visit The Cloisters, a beautiful building made possible by generous gifts from John D. Rockefeller Jr. to highlight the art and architecture of the Middle Ages. Outside the Bonneton Cloister more than 250 species of plants that were cultivated during the Middle Ages are grown in an herb garden. The arcade of Tric Cloister is the setting for a garden containing plants depicted in the Unicorn Tapestries hanging just inside.

Comfortable walking shoes are recommended. The cost is $55 per person, $50 for seniors, which includes transportation, lunch and a $15 non-refundable tax-deductible contribution to the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association. Space is limited. Call 737-3735 for reservation information.

Cross Country Bike Ride To Help Lupus Research

John Lavery, a 25-year-old from Pennington, has just begun a ten-week journey to help raise awareness and research funds for systemic lupus erythematosus, a disease that has affected his sister, Dena, for the past 13 years.

Mr. Lavery's ride began in Seattle, Wash. on May 18. He and his two riding companions are expected to end their journey around August 1, in New York City. With each passing mile, Mr. Lavery and his 24-year-old partners, Ryan Monahan and Robert Kelly, will raise money through pledges provided by friends, business associates and the public. The funds will go toward research and education programs of the Lupus Foundation of America (LFA).

Lupus is a chronic, inflammatory disease in which the body's immune system fails to serve its normal protective function and, instead, forms antibodies that attack healthy tissues and organs. The disease has attacked every joint in Dena's 26-year-old body, as well as her lungs, kidneys, larynx and intestines. She has lost the vision in her left eye.

Nearly two million people in the United States (approximately one out of every 185) have lupus. Ninety percent of them are women. The disease is hard to diagnose, difficult to live with, incurable, and life threatening in severe cases.

According to Mr. Lavery, the trio will first travel along the west coast and then head east, traveling through Las Vegas and the Grand Canyon, before making their way back to the northeast. As they raise funds, John Lavery and his two friends will help to support research projects funded by LFA.

The battle against lupus is truly a family affair. Dena's father, Jack, a senior vice president at Merrill Lynch, is a member of the board of directors of the S.L.E. Foundation, a chapter of the Lupus Foundation of America. He also serves on the LFA Marketing Committee. Charlotte Lavery, Dena's mother, is an active member of the S.L.E. Foundation in New York City as well.

The Foundation operates a toll-free information line where the public may call and request a lupus information packet. The number is 1-800-558-0121.

Donations in support of the cross-country bicycle ride may be addressed to: Bike Ride, Lupus Foundation of America, 4 Research Place, Suite 180, Rockville, Md. 20850.

Trip to Seeing Eye Unit With Recording for Blind

The Princeton Unit of Recording for the Blind is sponsoring a day trip to Morristown to visit the Seeing Eye headquarters on Thursday, June 15. The trip will also include a visit to the house and gardens of Macculloch Hall in the town's historic district.

Located on 55 acres outside Morristown, the Seeing Eye is where dogs are trained and matched with the blind people they will serve. Macculloch Hall was built in 1810 and is furnished with antiques of the period. It also features a permanent collection of drawings and prints by political cartoonist Thomas Nast, as well as an exhibit of American prints, 1890 to 1940 in a gallery devoted to changing exhibits.

The bus will depart at 8:30 from the Community Park North parking lot on Mountain Avenue and return at approximately 4:15. The cost of the trip is $40 per person, which includes a $15 non-refundable contribution to the Princeton Unit, Recording for the Blind.

A check payable to the Princeton Unit, Recording for the Blind may be sent to 36-A Hibben Lane, Princeton 08540. The cancellation deadline is Thursday. The trip is limited to 49 people.

For information call 921-6534.

Classic British Autos To be Showcased Here

Classic British sportscars and saloons will be on display Saturday afternoon, June 24, near the shores of Lake Carnegie as owners from the Mid-Atlantic area gather for the Jaguar Touring Club's 22nd annual Concours d'Elegance.

The cars that came to be known as Jaguars were first produced in England in the early 1930s and labeled with the manufacturers' initials: SS. World War II halted production, and by war's end, those initials had taken on a sinister meaning. A new name, "Jaguar," was selected.

Though the name changed, Jaguar designs have proven timeless, from the Mark IVs used in films like Indiana Jones, to XKs favored by racers and Hollywood stars, to saloons that have transported diplomats and British royalty.

At JTC's Concours d'Elegance, cars are judged on how well they have been preserved. Most will be driven to Princeton and many will stay overnight for a road rally on Sunday morning. The public is invited to learn more about the cars, and auto restoration and maintenance, at the Concours.

Volunteer Orientation At Watershed Association

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association will hold volunteer orientation on Monday at 1 and again at 5:30. The orientation takes about 45 minutes and includes a tour of the facilities. It is an opportunity to learn about the various volunteer opportunities available for all ages and time schedules.

A GOOD SPELLER: Carolyn Dorazio, a fifth grader at Stuart County Day School of the Sacred Heart, checks her dictionary to be certain she spelled "luncheonette" correctly at the District Spelling Bee sponsored recently by the Junior Division of the General Federation of Women's Club. Her correct spelling of "luncheonette" earned her second place in the District Bee and enabled her to move on to the State Spelling Bee in New Brunswick where she placed 16th out of 39 participants. She reached the District level as one of six finalists from Stuart chosen after a spelling bee held at the school by the Princeton Area Junior Women's Club.

Summer soccer camps, open to boys and girls who are 8 to 16 years old, will be offered from June 26 to 30 and July 5 to 8. Tennis camps are available from June 26 to 30, July 5 to 8, 10 to 14, and 17 to 21. These camps are open to boys and girls ages 8 to 17.

The season will close with a combined soccer and baseball camp from August 11 to 14 for boys and girls age 7 to 13. For more information on fees or registration procedures call 586-4800, extension 741.

An enriching alternative to traditional summer day camps is offered through the Camp College held on the MCCC West Windsor campus. Open to children between the ages of 7 and 13, Camp College combines study in a variety of subject areas with the recreational activities offered on the campus.

Strawberry Festival

The Griggstown Strawberry Festival will be held on Saturday between 5 and 7:30 p.m. at the restored one-room school house located behind the Reformed Church on Canal Road. There will be strawberry pastries, jams, shortcakes and many other delicacies.

This is the 13th annual strawberry festival sponsored by The Griggstown Historical Society, which provides the funds to maintain the one-room school house, the Mule Tenders Barracks Museum, and the Bridge Tenders Station.

Participants choose up to six different "courses" that meet for 55 minutes daily for all four weeks of each Camp College session. Session 1 runs from June 26 to July 20 and July 24 through August 17. Camp hours are 8:30 to 4, 5:15 or 6, depending on the activities selected by the camper. An Early Bird before-camp optional program enables parents to drop their children off as early as 7:30 a.m.

Some of the courses to be offered for children ages 7 to 10 are acting, beginning and advanced swimming, camp chorus, Cartoon Capers, chess, computer learning games, film fantasies, French, Geography Giants, Green Thumbs, Kung-fu, Medieval World/Castles, Meet the Instruments, painting, plaster ceramics, printmaking, Puppet Masters, Spanish, stencilling, tennis, typing/keyboarding, yoga and Young Authors.

Additional courses offered to campers between ages 10 and 13 are arts and crafts, computer programming, Blast from the Past, CADastrophe, debate, decoupage, DJ's-live on WMCC, Things to Do, to Make to Become, Hot Off the Press, Mock Trials, Parent Management/Kid Survival, Peacemaking Skills, Wearable Art, and You're the Boss.

Camp College costs $575 per child for one four-week session. For further information call the Division of Corporate and Community Programs at 586-4800, extension 267 or 765.

Fantastic Fridays

MCCC is also offering a "Fantastic Fridays" program. An example is Friday Ocean Adventures at Sandy Hook on July 14 and 21, where youngsters age 7 to 14 can examine geological history, plant life, marsh and bay animals and enjoy nature walks, swimming and a treasure hunt.

Transportation is provided to and from the West Windsor campus, leaving at 8:30 and returning at 5. Tuition and fees are $80 for the two sessions.

Other trips include a day in New York aboard vintage naval ships on July 14; a visit to Washington, D.C. on July 21; a day at the American Museum of Natural History in New York on July 28; a trip to the Liberty Science Center on August 4; a Washington Zoo excursion on August 11; and a voyage on the tall ship Clearwater on August 18.

These "Friday Flyaways" are chaperoned by some of the most popular instructors and counselors from MCCC's Camp College. Tuition and fees for each day trip are $45. For further information call 586-4800, extension 267 or 765.

N.J. Talented Students Honored for Academics

The Johns Hopkins University Center for Talented Youth has honored hundreds of students throughout the state of New Jersey for their outstanding verbal and/or mathematical abilities. The students' talents were discovered in the annual CTY Talent Searches, conducted by Hopkins.

Fifth- and sixth-grade students who scored at or above the verbal or quantitative mean scores of eighth- and ninth-grade students, respectively, on the PLUS Academic Abilities Assessment received certificates of merit and special awards.

Alexander Conway, Sycamore Road, a student at Princeton Day School, received second place in Sixth Grade Math. Rebecca Starr, John Witherspoon Middle School, won first place in the Seventh Grade Verbal SAT. Daniel Kozikowski, also at John Witherspoon, won fourth place in the Sixth Grade Verbal.

Also, three fifth graders from the same class at Johnson Park School were honored. They are, Joseph J. Fassler, William Garland, and Robert Hillas.

Works of PDS Students Chosen for Exhibitions

Photography work by Princeton Day School students has been chosen for exhibition in a variety of juried shows in the area.

The juried photography exhibit at Phillips Mill in Stockton included photos by Liuba Shapiro of Lawrenceville, Michael DeSenna of Kendall Park, Emily DeVilla of Monmouth Junction, Chandler Plohn of Princeton, Dan Greenfeld, and Zack Schwartz, all of Princeton, and Andy Golda of Ringoes.

FROM ZIMBABWE TO PRINCETON: It took lots of people to unpack and stage more than 300 pieces of stone sculpture created by Zimbabwean master stone carvers for the Zimbabwe Stone Sculpture Sale and Exhibition, through Sunday at the Princeton Marriott Conference Center. From left are Sherrill Lord, chair of the event; Peggy Knowlton, collector and curator of the exhibition; Michael Patrick and James Mills, volunteers for the Exchange Club; and David Williams. The Exchange Club, which serves homeless families in Mercer County, is the coordinator and beneficiary of the event. The sculptures on the crate are "Loving Giraffe Family" and "Leaf Spirit." The exhibit is open 10 to 6 Wednesday and Saturday, until 8 on Thursday and Friday, and noon to 6 on Sunday. For more information, call the Club at 989-9417.

Tracy E. Foose

Tracy E. Foose, Ross Stevenson Circle, a senior at Princeton High School, is this year's winner of the Florence Bell Hillier Prize of the Women's College Club of Princeton. The award is named in memory of fellow member Florence Hillier, late wife of Dr. James Hillier and mother of J. Robert Hillier, CEO of The Hillier Group, Architects and Planners.

An engraved silver bowl and a check for $1,000 was presented to this year's winner by daughter-in-law Barbara Ann Hillier, principal of Hillier's Philadelphia office. The ceremony took place at an afternoon tea at the home of Mrs. Mary Hoffmann of Lawrenceville. Other scholarship winners were also in attendance, as was Tracy's mother, Sandra. Ms. Foose's father, Dean, is the director of alumni relations at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Ms. Foose will attend Williams College in Massachusetts next fall and plans to major in biology and neurology. Besides being an exceptional scholar, she is a talented athlete who competed in last year's State-wide "Meet of Champions" as a 400-meter runner. She has a strong interest in music. An accomplished flutist, she composes her own songs and has performed with both her school and church choirs.

Navy Seaman Recruit Charles J. Wittkop, son of Michael J. and Donna M. Wittkop, Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, was recently selected as honorman for his recruit training company and was presented with the Navy League Outstanding Recruit Award.

He was cited for outstanding performance by a single recruit who best exemplified the Navy's ideals and traditions. He demonstrated qualities of patriotism, pride in the unit and physical fitness.

Five area residents have been named to the dean's list at Rutgers University School of Law at Camden.

They are, from Princeton, Jennifer M. Causing, David P. Davis, and Wamno Kang; from Princeton Junction, Patricia McCann and Helen C. Parker.

Dr. Inez L. Hinds, John Street, has celebrated her 50th year since graduating from Morgan State University, Baltimore, Md. She was a member of the Class of 1945.

Annual Awards for Preservation Announced by Historical Society

The Historical Society of Princeton has announced its seventh annual Preservation Awards in recognition of local building projects completed during the past year. The awards are given to projects in which the owners have expended significant care and effort in historic preservation.

Two Dickinson Street, owned by the trustees of Princeton University, was recognized for Preservation and Rehabilitation. This late Victorian structure at the corner of University Place and Dickinson was originally a private residence, known as "Wadleigh House." Purchased by the Class of 1911 Realty Corporation, the building was transferred to the University in 1934 for use as a student dormitory. The present work, undertaken by George A. Fett, Architects, included new interior finishes of gypsum veneer plaster, raised wood panel doors, wood trim and new hardwood floors.

On the exterior, new siding, trim and matching decorative brackets were used to complete the renovation. The porches were reconstructed and new double-hung windows were installed. Barrier-free access was achieved with the use of a new ramp, along with new walks, patio, and landscaping. The building will continue to be a student residence.

The brick Captain's House on the eastern end of Nassau Street was also recognized for Preservation and Rehabilitation. Built c. 1800 in a traditional Georgian/Federal style, its distinctive three-tiered balcony was added in the 1860s. The owners and preservation architect Ronald H. Berlin returned the house to its original use as a single-family dwelling. Exterior work concentrated on preserving the fabric of the building, while enhancing its appearance in a manner appropriate to its style and period.

Brickwork was cleaned and repointed where necessary. A massive rear chimney was reconstructed, using recycled brick. Other alterations include new windows topped by brick relieving arches, to match the construction of existing windows. New gabled dormers replaced less compatible shed dormers on the roof.

Alexander Hall on Mercer Street, owned by Princeton Theological Seminary, was given an award for Exterior Restoration. Completed in 1817, it was the first building built for the Seminary and was the only dormitory and classroom structure until the construction of Brown Hall in the 1860s. Alterations to Alexander Hall have been largely cosmetic, and it remains in nearly its original form. Before starting the restoration of the exterior, the Seminary commissioned extensive archival and material research to determine the appropriate treatments.

With the advice of Ford Farewell Mills & Gatsch Architects, the Seminary chose to restore the building to its c. 1870 appearance, when it had been pointed with a two-color mortar treatment. In the summer of 1994 it was completely cleaned and repointed, and repairs made to the wood and brownstone. Alexander Hall is listed in the New Jersey and National Registers of Historic Places, and is in the Mercer Hill Historic Overlay district of Princeton Borough.

A special award was given to Constance Mann Greiff for Outstanding Contributions to Historic Preservation in Princeton. As president of her own historic preservation firm, Heritage Studies, as author of scholarly books and articles, and as a dedicated volunteer and historic preservation advocate, Ms. Greiff has provided expert professional advice on preservation projects for more than a quarter century.

In 1963 she began a campaign for historic preservation in Princeton as part of an exhibition celebrating the sesquicentennial of the granting of the charter of Princeton Borough. Princeton Architecture, a definitive book which grew out of the exhibition, brought new awareness of Princeton's rich architectural heritage to both the Historical Society of Princeton and the community at large.

Historical Society projects such as the revitalization of the Princeton Basin-Alexander Street area, the restoration of Bainbridge House, and the extended use of the Preservation Revolving Fund grew out of her visionary and energetic leadership.

Ms. Greiff was instrumental in the drafting of historic preservation ordinances and delineating historic districts in both Princeton Borough and Township. She was also a founding member of Preservation New Jersey and New Jersey's Advisor to the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

William C. Campbell, Ph.D., the president of the Medical History Society of New Jersey, has announced that Karen McKeon, a senior at Stuart Country Day School, has been awarded the top prize of $350 as the winner of the second annual Pasteur Essay Contest. Ms. McKeon's winning essay, "The Influence of Medicine on William Carlos Williams' Writing," was written for Stuart's trimester science course "Natural Disasters." The course is team-taught by Stuart teachers Barbara Burke, Joan Guest and Anne Soos.

Ms. McKeon, a resident of North Brunswick, will attend Villanova University this fall.

Lisa Silberman, daughter of Mel and Shoshana Silberman, Linden Lane, has been awarded the Associate Alumnae of Barnard College Graduate Fellowship. This award is given annually to an alumna who shows particular promise in her field and is to be used for graduate studies.

Ms. Silberman will begin a doctoral program next fall in drama and theatre arts at Columbia University.

Why are hospitals advertising?

Healthcare is reforming in New Jersey and the healthcare environment is changing at a rate that was unthinkable two years ago. Services, even operations, that were done in the hospital are now performed in doctors' offices. Doctors, programs and hospitals that were busy and full then, are looking for clients today. This translates into excess capacity and some believe that one way to attract new patients to fill excess capacity is to advertise.

We, at The Medical Center at Princeton, have been concerned about this advertising effort because so much of it seems to be aimed at the people of central New Jersey, particularly new residents in our fast growing municipalities.

We have always believed that our communities want our Medical Center to spend precious healthcare dollars on improving healthcare—to make The Medical Center at Princeton the finest teaching community hospital in New Jersey. Today we believe that we must also spend some of these dollars to educate the people in central New Jersey about the changes that are happening in healthcare and about the people and services available to you at The Medical Center at Princeton.

We are embarking on a modest program designed to tell you about the new face of healthcare delivery and to tell you about the people here at Princeton who are delivering those services.

Look for a series of questions and answers similar to this announcement in your local newspapers. You will also see announcements describing the background and training of newer members of our medical staff so that you will have a sense of the quality of doctors and nurses at this hospital.

We hope you find this series informative and helpful as you make important healthcare decisions for yourself and your family.

For more information about our services and programs or referral to a physician, please call The Medical Center at Princeton Healthcare Referral Service at 609-497-4197.

Thank you.

An Area Sporting Institution Since 1895, Springdale Golf Club Celebrates 100 Years

Much has been written in recent months about golf in Princeton - specifically about its future. With the professional quality course and lavish clubhouse planned for the grounds of the Jasna Polana estate, many believe that Princeton will become a golf mecca of sorts, luring the international jet-set from New York to play a round on the grounds of the former Johnson estate.

While Jasna Polana may be poised to make golf history, a smaller, less ostentatious golf club in town has been occupying its own place in the annals of the sport for the past century. The Springdale Golf Club celebrates its centennial this year, and enjoys its reputation as the oldest, and one of the finest, university-affiliated golf courses in the country.

"There are only about 100 clubs in the country that are 100-plus years old," says Springdale's current president, Dean W. Chace, "so we're in very distinguished company. As far as we know, it's the oldest collegiate course in the country...it's certainly the oldest USGA-affiliated college course in the country."

Springdale's 18 holes were designed by architect William Flynn to sit on approximately 100 acres of land, just over half of what Princeton Township has recently ruled to be the minimum acreage for any courses that should come to be built in the future. "You can see the guy was really a genius," says Mr. Chace, "being able to fit 18 holes on this amount of land."

The Bell Tower of the Old Graduate College is visible from virtually every section of the course, which borders on Alexander, College, and Springdale roads. The course and clubhouse are on Princeton University lands, but Springdale operates as a private entity under a licensing agreement with the University. Part of that agreement requires the club to allow access to all university students, faculty, and administrators.

Mr. Chace recently arranged for the renewal of the 20-year agreement that allows the club to continue operation. "We have a very, very good relationship with the University," says Mr. Chace. The club pays all its own bills and the relevant taxes on the land it occupies.

Formed by Princeton Alums

Its current position on such a lovely piece of real estate belies the club's mean beginnings 100 years ago, as a nine-hole course located on what amounted to a cow pasture.

With the club's centennial approaching, a number of its members, including Tom Macmanus, Jeanne Silvester, Sally Skey, and William Selden, have taken time to do some research into the origins of Springdale. In 1971, a brief outline of the club's history was compiled by Norvell B. Samuels. Most of what follows is the fruit of their research.

It was in the fall of 1895 that the Princeton Golf Club, which would be re-named Springdale in 1922, was formed. A consortium of alumni, undergraduates, and faculty members had a nine-hole course laid out in a field known as Stockton Woods, at the bottom of Bayard Lane.

The club's officers included men with names currently memorialized in buildings and other landmarks in and around Princeton. Moses Taylor Pyne, of the class of 1877, served as the first president; A. Marquand, '74, was vice president; and P.A.V. Van Doren, '79 served as secretary and treasurer.

Four years later, in 1899, Mr. Pyne, along with fellow alumni Stephen S. Palmer and Cornelius C. Cuyler, formed the Springdale Association with the aim of acquiring a larger, more suitable tract of land for the club's course. They prevailed upon other wealthy alumni to contribute to their cause, and eventually raised $25,000 and purchased the 240 acre Stockton farm, on which the club and the Graduate College now sit. The property was eventually given over to the University in 1909.

The present clubhouse, known as the Class of 1886 Memorial Building, was purchased by members of that class in 1901 and deeded to the University in 1903. It had been a tenant farmer's home before its conversion to a clubhouse, and has not always been at its current location on College Road. The whole house was moved from its original location in 1913, because it was obstructing the view of the graduate college from the main grounds of the University.

A Long Waiting List

Springdale has approximately 325 members, a number that the club likes to keep fairly constant. There is a fairly long waiting list for those who wish to be admitted to the club. Mr. Chace says that the wait is currently at least two years. New members must be sponsored by a current member, and must be seconded by four other members.

Prospective members must then meet with the membership committee and be approved by the Board of Governors before their membership is accepted. An initiation fee of $8,500 must be paid to the club. So far this year, Mr. Chace estimates, the club has accepted nine new members.

PART OF THE BARGAIN: When Princeton's Class of 1886 agreed to donate the clubhouse on Springdale Golf Course to the University as a class memorial, one stipulation was that the members of the class would all be life members of the club. Another was that the class would be entitled to hold all of its reunions in the clubhouse; they are pictured here, circa 1913, doing just that.

The day-to-day operation of Springdale is the responsibility of the Board of Governors, a body of 12 members elected to multi-year terms in staggered elections. The Board elects the club president each year from among its 12 members.

The Board operates on a committee structure, with members chairing committees on membership, finance, house (food and beverage, etc.), greens, and golf. Club members not on the Board serve on those committees also. We encourage wide member participation," says Mr. Chace.

Springdale operates with a staff of approximately 20 people. "We pride ourselves on treating our people well and fairly," says Mr. Chace, "and we generally keep them a long time. Cases in point are Donna DiLorenzo and Pete Consoli. Ms. Lorenzo is responsible for much of the day-to-day management of the clubhouse, including most financial matters. Mr. Consoli, who runs the recently-renovated pro shop, has been the club's resident pro for many years.

University Golf Team

Springdale has been the home course of the Princeton University golf teams since the turn of the century. "The golf team members really seem to enjoy this place," says Mr. Chace. "We try to make them feel like they are part of Springdale. We have tournaments for them and we encourage them to think that this is their home."

The Tigers repaid the club by bringing home national championships on many occasions. Princeton won its first intercollegiate championship in 1914, and followed with a second in 1916. From the end of the first world war to the beginning of the 1930's Princeton's golf team reigned supreme, capturing national titles in 1919, '20, '22, '23, '27, '28, '29, and '30.

Although they would never be as dominant again, the Tigers continued to make strong national and regional showings at regular intervals through the 1970's.

According to Mr. Chace, strong performances by Princeton golfers this year may be a portent of things to come. Improvements undertaken at the course, he feels, are allowing the University to attract golfers of a higher caliber to the teams. "The team members tell me that this is, by far, the best-conditioned course they play," he says.

During Mr. Chace's first term as president, which he served in the late 1980's, Springdale's Board of Governors brought in a number of "very renowned" architects to study the course. "We were told that it is a classic Flynn course," he recalls. However, said the architects, over the years, lazy greenskeepers had allowed much of the course's character to be lost. Greens had been cut back, probably to facilitate mowing, changing the original design.

Mr. Chace is quick to note that the adjective "lazy" does not apply to current staff. "When we found that out," he says, "we went about trying to get (the course) back to where it was as well as upgrading it to more nearly fit the skills of today's golfer."

Much of the improvement work has focused on the quality and placement of bunkers, or sand traps. Some have been improved, some removed, and others added. Many of the old bunkers had been effectively taken out of play by new equipment and the increased length of the average player's drive. The changes, says Mr. Chace, have made Springdale a more challenging course for the "average good golfer."

"It's sort of a tricky business, because we have three sets of tees: one for ladies, one for senior people, and then the regular set of tees. You try to locate the bunkers so that all three sets of golfers, with their skills, will be challenged."

Mr. Chace notes in a recent issue of the club's newsletter: "Change usually comes slowly at Springdale. When it does come, and is recognized, the Governors try to adapt to it and, hopefully, improve Springdale." The improvements in the grounds and recent renovations to some parts of the clubhouse, Mr. Chace hopes, will get Springdale off on the right foot for a second century of golf in Princeton.

One thing that is not meant to change, though, is the character of the club, which Mr. Chace describes as simple and friendly. "It's a humble place," he remarks, "a golf place."

New Play Festival At McCarter Theatre

Wendy Wasserstein, Joyce Carol Oates, Mac Wellman, and Jane Anderson are among the playwrights who have accepted commissions from McCarter Theatre to contribute short plays to Random Acts '95, McCarter's second annual new play festival.

Random Acts '95 will run from June 6 through 18. The two-week festival will consist of three different events: a world premiere full-length play, staged readings of world premiere one-act plays, and an evening of readings of new works by emerging playwrights which has been dubbed "Summer Shorts."

Random Acts '95 will commence on Tuesday, June 6, with A Park in Our House, a full-length play by Nilo Cruz commissioned especially for the festival. Mr. Cruz, a Cuban-American playwright, has written several plays including Graffiti, Of Storks and Angels and Dancing on Her Knees. His play Night Train to Bolina received a W. Alton Jones Award and he is currently writing a new play commissioned by The Joseph Papp Public Theatre. A Park in Our House centers around a mute boy and his makeshift family, struggling to make ends meet in early 1970's Cuba. The family welcomes a Russian visitor who seems to offer the promise of a better life.

On Saturday, June 10, staged readings of one-act plays will join the Random Acts '95 repertory. In addition to Ms. Wasserstein, Ms. Oates, Mr. Wellman, and Ms. Anderson, the writers who have been commissioned to write one-act plays are Alexandra Gersten and Janusz Glowacki.

Emerging Playwrights

The final component of Random Acts '95, Summer Shorts, will join the repertory on June 15. Five emerging playwrights have been commissioned to write short works for this collection of readings: Paul Muldoon, Reggie Cheong-Leen, Thulani Davis, Doug Wright and Loretta Greco.

Wendy Wasserstein is a Tony Award, Pulitzer Prize, and Drama Desk Award-winning playwright. Her plays include The Heidi Chronicles, Isn't It Romantic, Uncommon Women and Others and The Sisters Rosensweig. Jane Anderson, whose play Smart Choice for the New Century was presented during Winter Tales '94, won an Emmy Award and Writer's Guild Award for her writing of the television movie The Positively True Adventures of the Alleged Texas Cheerleader-Murdering Mom on HBO. She also wrote the screenplay It Could Happen to You, which starred Nicholas Cage and Bridget Fonda.

Reggie Cheong-Leen's play The Nanjing Race, which was the centerpiece of McCarter's Winter Tales '94, was awarded top prize by The American Theatre Critics' New Play award. Thulani Davis's writings include journalism, fiction, poetry and works for the theater. Ms. Davis is the TCG/PEW resident artist at The Joseph Papp Public Theater.

Joyce Carol Oates, whose one-act play The Interview was presented during Winter Tales '94, is the author of a number of novels, short story collections, volumes of criticism, poems and plays. Her play The Perfectionist had its world premiere at McCarter, directed by Emily Mann. Ms. Oates is the Roger S. Berlind Distinguished Professor in the Humanities at Princeton University.

Paul Muldoon, who is generally regarded as one of the leading Irish poets of his generation, was recently awarded the T.S. Eliot Prize for poetry for The Annals of Chile. He is also director of the Program in Creative Writing at Princeton University.

Alexandra Gersten is a New York based actor and playwright, whose first play, My Thing of Love, recently opened on Broadway. Janusz Glowacki is the Polish-born playwright of Hunting Cockroaches and Antigone in New York. Mac Wellman is a two-time Obie Award-winner for his plays Bad Penny and Sincerity Forever.

Doug Wright's plays include The Stonewater Rapture, Interrogating the Nude, Watbanaland and a musical, Buzzsaw Berkeley. He teaches playwriting at Princeton University. Loretta Greco, McCarter Theatre's associate director, is the recipient of the 1994 Princess Grace Foundation Award.

Performance Schedule

The world premiere of Mr. Cruz's full-length play, A Park in Our House, will be presented for ten performances: Tuesday through Friday, June 6 through 9 at 8 p.m.; Saturday, June 10 at 4; Sunday, June 11 at 7:30; Monday through Wednesday, June 12 through 14, at 8; Friday, June 16, at 8; Saturday, June 17, at 9 p.m.; and Sunday, June 18, at 7:30 p.m.

The staged readings of one-act plays will be presented for six performances: Saturday, June 10, at 8:30 p.m.; Sunday, June 11, at 2; Tuesday, June 13, at 8; Saturday, June 17, at 5; and Sunday, June 18 at 2 and 7:30 p.m.

Summer Shorts will be presented for two performances: Thursday, June 15, at 8 and Saturday, June 17, at 8.

Saturday, June 17 is designated as a marathon day — see all three events in one day. Food may be purchased between performances at the theater on that day.

Tickets may be purchased for an individual event, two events, or for all three events. Tickets for the first event purchased are $18 each; tickets for the second event purchased are $12 each; and tickets for the third event are $5 each — thus patrons can see three different performances for $35.

To charge tickets by phone, call the McCarter box office at 683-8000.

Spaces Are Available In Youth Conservatory

Children entering kindergarten through third grade are invited to explore the world of theater at McCarter Theatre's seventh annual Summer Youth Conservatory. The four-week program, beginning July 5, features a wide range of classes for students of all ages. Spaces are currently available for children ages 5 to 8.

Through creative drama games and exercises, children in the kindergarten-first grade creative drama class will explore different themes, using art, movement, and music as it relates to the dramatic art form. The class places emphasis on the development of creative expression.

Students in the second and third grade class will explore acting technique, play development, and related theatrical conventions.

Both classes will be taught by McCarter Outreach Coordinator Leslie Hempling. Now in her fourth season with the Youth Conservatory, Ms. Hempling has taught numerous classes and workshops across the tri-state area, as well as performing extensively with McCarter's Outreach touring company.

For more information, call 683-9100, extension 6166.

MUSIC

Pops Concert Planned By Community Orchestra

The Westminster Community Orchestra, conducted by Barbara Barstow, will present a pops concert Sunday, June 11 at 7 in Richardson Auditorium on the Princeton University campus.

The concert will feature the Raritan Valley Choral Association, conducted by Patrick Freer; Nancy Froyland Hoerl, soprano; Elem Eley, baritone; and James Banks, violin. The program will include Saint-Saens' Rondo, the overture and "Va pensiero" from Verdi's Nabucco and selections from Leoncavallo's Pogliucci and Rodgers and Hammerstein's Oklahoma.

Ms. Hoerl has performed leading roles with Opera Delaware, Fargo-Moorhead Opera, Minikin Opera and Rose Valley Orchestra and Chorus. A regular performer in recital and oratorio, she is a founding member of The Grand Chamber Players. She is currently studying for her master's degree at Westminster, and she has attended the Vienna Conservatory of Music and the Britten-Pears School of Advanced Musical Study in Aldeburgh, England.

Mr. Eley has performed with Hawaii Opera Theater, Cincinnati Opera, New York Lyric Opera, Shreveport Opera, Boheme Opera Company of New Jersey and Princeton Pro Musica. His roles include Sharpless, Malatesta, Silvio, Carlo Gerard and Horace Tabor.

He made his European debut in 1992 on a tour of Spain, Portugal and France with Musica Europa 2001, singing the roles of Marcello and Schaunard in their acclaimed production of La Boheme.

ior Strings and the Orchestra String Training Ensemble of the New Jersey Youth Symphony of Summit. Also a violinist, she has performed with many ensembles between Philadelphia and New York City.

Mr. Freer has served as conductor and pianist for several regional choirs, most recently as assistant director and pianist for the 1992 Eastern American Choral Directors Association Middle School Honors Choir in Boston, Mass.

Musicians Needed

The Princeton High School Band invites former PHS band members and adults in the community who play a band instrument to help play the graduation ceremony.

Two or three evening rehearsals will be scheduled before the ceremony on Monday evening, June 19. The first two rehearsals will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 1, and Monday, June 12, in the PHS Band Room.

Those who play flute, piccolo, clarinet, oboe, bassoon, saxophone, French horn, tuba, or percussion, and would be willing to help, are asked to call Graduation Band at 683-4480 to sign up. Leave name, phone number, and instrument played with the secretary.

Nancy Froyland Hoerl

Tickets are $5. To purchase tickets or for more information call the Westminster Conservatory at 921-7104, extension 260.

Pianist to Give Concert At the Unitarian Church

Pianist Anita Cervantes will give a recital Saturday, June 10, at 8 at the Unitarian Church.

The program, entitled "Colors of the Piano," will feature John Corigliano's Fontosio on on Ostinato and works of area composers Olga Gorelli and Laurie Altman. It will also include the English Suite in A Minor by J.S. Bach and Debussy's Study in Thirds. The program will also include poetry read by Pablo Medina.

Ms. Cervantes plays both piano and harpsichord for the New Brunswick Chamber Orchestra. She is a founding member of the Chamber Music Co-op and has been devoted to the performance of new music as well as old. She teaches at Westminster Conservatory and The Peddie School as well as independently in the Princeton area.

The suggested donation for the concert is $10 or $6 for seniors and students. Proceeds will defray expenses and go to the music fund of the Unitarian Church.

Concert in Richardson By Two Men's Choruses

The Delaware Valley Men's Chorus, Dr. J.A. Kawarsky, conductor, will present a concert of American music Sunday at 7 in Richardson Auditorium. The concert will feature more than 170 performers, including the Brunswick Symphony Orchestra, Ellen Lang, soprano and the Harrisburg Men's Chorus.

Randall Thompson's The Testament of Freedom, a musical setting of four passages from the writings of Thomas Jefferson for chorus and orchestra, will be the featured work. The program will also include choral setting of American folksongs such as "Shenandoah," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and Aaron Copland's "Zion's Walls."

Tickets, priced at $18 for advance orders or $20 at the door, may be ordered by calling (215) 264-8958, 588-0568, or (908) 302-0742. Seating is not reserved.

Opera Festival Season To Open with Benefit

Friends of Opera Festival of New Jersey will celebrate the opening of Opera Festival's 12th season with a benefit dinner on Saturday, June 17.

The festivities begin with cocktails at 5:30, followed by dinner under the Festival Tent. Just before 8, patrons will move into the theater to Membership in the Friends of Opera Festival offers unique access to a dynamic opera company and a wide range of benefits. Volunteer opportunities exist in several different areas. For more information about the Friends, call Vera Dowd at 936-1505.

Second Show Added For George Winston

McCarter Theatre has added an extra performance by George Winston on Thursday, June 22, at 8 p.m. The Friday, June 23 performance is completely sold out.

Concert patrons are encouraged to bring donations of non-perishable food in support of The Crisis Ministry of Princeton and Trenton, a nonprofit organization providing food and emergency assistance to individuals and families in transition.

Best known for the rural folk piano style heard on his recordings, Mr. Winston also performs stride piano, New Orleans rhythm and blues piano, and the late Vince Guaraldi "Peanuts" pieces in concert.

He will also play selections from his newest solo piano release, Forest, inspired by the Montana forests of his childhood, as well as a few solo guitar pieces, in the tradition known as "Hawaiian slack key." For many years, he has studied and recorded the masters of this finger-picked guitar tradition, which dates back to the early 1800s in the Islands.

Tickets for the added performance are $22, $24, $25, $27 and $32. To charge tickets by phone, call the McCarter box office, at 683-8000.

Fine Italian Cuisine Featured at Casabona

The very popular Casabona Ristorante at 47B State Road (Route 206) is an even bigger success story than the owners had anticipated.

"The success has really been beyond our expectations," says co-owner, Vincenzo Alessio.

"We feel it's like the saying, 'New Jersey and You, Perfect Together'," adds co-owner and chef, Filippo Benizio. "We are very happy to be here."

The restaurant, which specializes in northern Italian cuisine, opened nearly two years ago, and its variety of dishes and appealing ambience have been a big attraction for customers.

"We have gotten off to a very good start," notes Mr. Alessio. "We get people from Lawrenceville, Hillsborough, New Brunswick, and Pennsylvania, as well as Princeton, and it's a good mix of people, including families. We've had great word-of-mouth, and we have many regulars. They come often, and lots of time, we know what they are going to order."

TEMPTING THE TASTE BUDS: "Our cuisine is fine northern Italian. We have very light, tasty sauces, not heavy. We have a variety of pasta, fish, chicken, veal, and beef dishes that have great flavor and are very popular." Vincenzo Alessio (left) and Filippo Benizio, co-owners of Casabona Ristorante at 47B State Road (Route 206), are shown near a mural in the restaurant, which depicts scenes of Casabona, Italy.

love of the restaurant business, having owned an Italian restaurant in Manhattan for several years. Mr. Alessio's family was also in the business.

A Different Atmosphere

"Phil and I were looking around for a location out of the city, and Princeton appealed to us. It's very enjoyable to be in a place where vandalism is not a problem, as it was in New York. It's a different atmosphere here. Also, we thought there was a need for a good Italian restaurant."

When they decided to call the new restaurant Casabona Ristorante, they were honoring Casabona, a town in Italy that was the original home of many of their family members.

Attractive murals depicting scenes of Casabona decorate the walls of the dining room, and many of the staff have their origins in Casabona also. "We have an authentic staff and authentic food," report the partners, with big smiles.

The food, which is noted for its light, tasty sauces and fresh ingredients, includes a variety of appetizers, salads, entrees, and desserts.

"The flavor and ingredients are special," explains Mr. Benizio. "We use fresh herbs, and all the ingredients are fresh. We have unique family recipes, and we also experiment and modify, and come up with new recipes. We even make our own bread here, which is served warm, and is delicious."

"Aside from the regular menu, we also have specials every night," adds Mr. Alessio. "Soft shell crabs, when they're in season, and stuffed baby veal chops Valdostana are big favorites."

"We also have great fish, including tuna, red snapper and swordfish. People are eating a lot of fish," he continues. "Also, every day, there is a different pasta special. We also have very good veal dishes, such as Veal Scaloppine Calabrese."

Other popular dishes include Linguine Mala Femmina, linguine with shrimps and scallops, clams, mussels, calamari with fresh tomato sauce; Linguine Alle Vongole, linguine with white clam sauce; and Polo Monte Carlo, sauteed breast of chicken with shallots, white wine, baby eggplant, fresh tomato, and fresh Italian Fontina cheese.

"Customers also like the baby veal shank, which is very special and not available everywhere. We also offer sweetbreads, another dish you don't find everywhere. Misto di Funghi is a special pasta dish with a sauce of four different mushrooms."

"Pasta is very big now," continues Mr. Alessio. "People are more concerned with eating lighter. Even our meat sauces are light. We use white wine, olive oil, and garlic. We also have a very nice simple tomato and basil sauce for pasta which is delicious."

Imports from Italy

Popular appetizers include frogs' legs, baby cultivated mussels, and Portobello mushrooms, among others, and desserts, such as tiramisu and homemade ricotta cheesecake, are also in demand at Casabona.

"We also have imports from Italy, including lemon sorbetto, served in its own real lemon shell, and chocolate mousse," adds Mr. Alessio.

Espresso and cappuccino are also big favorites.

The restaurant does not have a liquor license, but customers are encouraged to bring a bottle of wine, and all the accessories are provided.

Lunch and dinner are served both inside (accommodations for 80) and al fresco, with attractive patio dining for 20. The dining room setting, with fresh linens and the Casabona murals, is especially inviting.

Lunch entrees start at $5.95, dinner entrees from $10.95, and desserts are $5.

"We look forward to being here for a long time," says Mr. Alessio. "We enjoy our customers, and we enjoy preparing the best food for them, and seeing them enjoy it."

Reservations are suggested, and hours for lunch are: Tuesday through Saturday 11:30 to 3; dinner: Tuesday through Thursday 4:30 to 10, Friday and Saturday until 11; Sunday noon to 10 (dinner only). 252-0940.

Creative Service & Style Found at Salon Phenom

"I like Princeton and the charm of Princeton. It attracted me because it's Manhattanesque. I'm from Manhattan, and Princeton is kind of like Soho. Also, there are a lot of creative people who create their own style here. I like that."

Michael [who prefers his last name not be used], the owner of Phenom Salon at 20 Nassau Street, had been a hair stylist for nearly 15 years in Manhattan before opening his salon here last February. He especially wanted an establishment that would offer customers creative styles, as well as a relaxed, welcoming atmosphere.

I wanted this to be a place where I'd like to go," he explains. "Phenom" is short for phenomenal. I like to interpret phenomenal as 'the creative difference,' not the best. This may be a different salon experience than you're used to. I try to be creative, and my forte is cutting. When I cut, everything comes into play — the STYLE & SERVICE: "We are a full-service hair salon. We do everything except nails. Also, in the near future, we will be offering facials and body waxing." Michael, the owner of Salon Phenom at 20 Nassau Street, provides creative cutting and styling both for men and women at his new salon. He looks forward to welcoming even more customers, and as his logo says, "Come grow with us and make us your 'mane' place!" "We're a place for family and friends," he adds.

and '70s styles are big again — with long straight hair for girls. Then, there is the College Cut, in which the hair can be easily pulled back into a scrunchy, or worn down.

"Many like short hair, easy care with wash and wear styles," he adds. "People can't always spend the time they used to. Also, younger women are coloring their hair more now, just to have a change. Dye is very popular. It's both highlights and the whole head. And another thing, men are less afraid to experiment with style today than in the past."

Michael reports that men's cuts are $25 and cuts for sale, and is happy to special order for clients.

"I try to stay with the best products, and give customers the best value for the dollar," he says. "Also, when I special order, people don't have to feel obligated if they find the product somewhere else in the meantime."

"What I'm really aiming at is to provide a comfortable, welcoming atmosphere and the best service I can. I'm very careful with people. I want to be friendly, but not familiar. I take this seriously. It's a personal situation with a client. I am doing something with your image."

"I really like people, and one of the things I like about my work is the contact with people. I want them to get to know me and trust me. Also, I try hard to offer reasonable prices. Our logo is 'Where the service is phenomenal, but the prices are nominal.'"

Have a Good Time

Michael also offers a variety of retail hair products women's $35. "It basically depends on the level of difficulty," he adds. Perms start at $75, and gift certificates are available.

"My work allows me to be creative, and I'm so glad I can combine this while serving the public," he continues. "I like people to have a good time here, and be relaxed. I enjoy helping them to look and feel good. It's very satisfying to me."

Salon Phenom is open Tuesday through Friday 11 to 6, and Saturday 10 to 4. Evenings by appointment. Saturday hours are flexible if clients need to stay past 4. 683-HAIR.

client's facial structure, type of hair, and lifestyle. I like to work with the natural motion of the hair. Hair style is about image — the look you present.

"However, I'm not a scissor-happy hair dresser," he continues. "If a client comes in and says, 'I'm thinking about a radical change, I might not do it the first time. You might need to get used to the idea. And if you ask for something that really doesn't suit you, I'll try to advise you.'"

Michael is pleased with the mix of customers at Salon Phenom. They are both walk-in and by appointment, and a variety of ages, including students, business people, and homemakers.

"I'm encouraged with this," he reports, "because I didn't target any one group. I like lots of different people."

Diversity Is the Key

Just as there is diversity in his clientele, Mr. Michael says diversity is the key in hair styles today, both for men and women.

"You see different things today," he points out. "I notice that nowadays, 'What's Old is New!' The '60s

A Grad Student Wife Remembers
The Princeton of Half a Century Ago

To the Editor of Town Topics:

World War II had ended. It was a turning point for Senior Citizens of my vintage. It was now or never in our lives. Would it mean my husband would be able to go back to college and earn his Ph.D. in Chemistry?

Princeton Grad School didn't approve of married students then, but relented, and all who applied were told there would be admission if they could find a place to live. We subletted for almost three years, in an apartment house with about 40 apartments, ranging in size from no bedrooms to two bedrooms. It had four flights of marble stairs, plus an outside flight into the basement where you crossed to another flight that went outdoors where you parked your car or hung your wash.

Our apartment contained a bedroom, bathroom, living room, two dinky jam-packed closets and an 8 x 12-foot dinette kitchen, complete with an icebox and a dumbwaiter that gave free rides to homeless cockroaches. Our dumbwaiter was very friendly. We shared it with our neighbor and two families on each of the floors below. We could chat, smell what they were cooking, and, if someone made pickles, the zesty fragrance caused a conversation piece. Every other morning at breakfast time, Andrew Teague, the iceman, arrived to haul the ice-filled dumbwaiter from the basement to our third-floor apartment. He had to wear heavy gloves to keep from getting rope-burn.

Princeton had a population of 6,000 to 7,000. It had a split personality, dividing it into Town and Gown. We were Gownies. Our friends at the University usually walked to town or rode bikes. Many didn't own cars. Mrs. Dodds, the tweedy, attractive wife of the University's president, looked like a fashion plate of a genteel English countryside lady when she rode her hike to town.

Princeton Borough was like an overgrown village. You knew the shopkeepers, and they knew you and your children. What a delightful and stimulating place to raise children. We loved the variety and caliber of the people who lived here. There were probably more intellectual celebrities P.P.M. than any other town in the world.

Our apartment house could boast about many fascinating personalities, such as a nationally-known poet, prize-winning physicists, biologists on the brink of this new exciting age of DNA, etc., a young chemist helpful in developing Milltown, a person who later went to Washington to advise the government about aeronautics, etc.

Education, for me, was by rubbing elbows with these people and learning by way of osmosis. Around Princeton you might see Einstein, John Wheeler, Robert Oppenheimer, John O'Hara, Shellabarger, and many, many others that space won't allow.

The University people lived simply. I was embarrassed because I owned a mink coat, so I hid it in a box under my bed.

Among the many notables you might find today are Joyce Carol Oates, Peter Benchley, and some who grew up here — Christopher Reeve, John Lithgow and Bebe Neuwirth, or maybe an unknown face on the street is an international or future "Great."

I miss the beauty of spring in Princeton with the flowering trees and shrubs and friends, but take my job here as resident ghost seriously.

Increased Accessibility to Handguns Contributing to Rise in Teen Suicide

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Several weeks ago, Foreal Wooten, a Princeton High School senior, committed suicide with a handgun. Students, parents, and other members of the community are still struggling with mingled feelings of sadness, confusion, and fear.

This tragedy has increased our awareness that some of our students may be dealing with incredibly painful problems and feelings, with no sure sense that a sympathetic ear and help is available.

I want to also draw attention to the fact that this was a death by handgun. Many people are asking some hard and worrisome questions: Did Mr. Wooten obtain his gun at the high school? Do some PHS students have guns? Did Mr. Wooten in fact bring his gun to school to show to friends, several days before he shot himself?

As a student of firearms violence and a gun control advocate, I would like to point out the following:

So far there has been no hard evidence of the presence of guns at the high school, but we should assume that there are PHS students who either possess handguns or know how to obtain one easily, as there are in most New Jersey high schools.

All current research shows that wherever firearms are present, they tend to get used, and gun violence increases. Firearms deaths, both homicides and suicides, are increasing among young people.

Many people are not aware of the fact that over half of all firearms deaths are suicide. Further, the Centers for Disease Control recently released a study showing suicide is an increasingly serious problem amongst the nation's youth, with especially big increases among all children ages 10 to 14 and among young black men. Experts believe part of the explanation for this rise is increased gun accessibility.

I must assume that members of the PHS community, indeed of the whole Princeton area, do not want to see the day come wherein metal detectors and other onerous security measures must be installed at the high school in order to prevent further tragedy.

I therefore urge school administrators, teachers, students, parents, and elected officials to face the issue of firearms in our schools openly and candidly. A planned program which includes open discussion sessions, workshops providing information, and increased use of trained peer counselors at the high school should be given serious consideration.

Obviously, ongoing problems of low self-esteem, depression, and hostile behavior among students must also be addressed seriously. But before any of these problems result in further injury or death due to the presence of firearms, our response must be swift and certain.

BRONZE SCULPTURE, by Henry Klimowicz, is included in an exhibit of bronze castings by Mr. Klimowicz and mixed media sculptures by Alena Ort in Conant Hall, Educational Testing Service, through June 30.

ART

Exhibits

"Opposites Attract," a mixed media show featuring Barbara Watts' watercolors and Florence Moonan's acrylic paintings and drawings will be at the Studio Gallery in Hopewell from June 3 through June 30. A reception will be held Saturday, June 3, from 5 to 7 p.m.

Ms. Watts received her BFA from Pratt Institute. She has taught art at the Summit Art Association, Doylestown Art League and Princeton Art Association, and has exhibited as a member of the Princeton Artists Alliance several times at Scanticon, Prallsville Mill, Nabisco and Merrill Lynch. The Watercolor Award at the New Jersey Watercolor Society, Patron's Prize at Phillips Mill, and the Gold Medal of Honor at the American Watercolor Society in New York City are among the many awards she has won. Her work has been shown in many galleries and is in private collections.

Ms. Moonan has exhibited in juried shows at Mercer County Community College, the New Century in New Hope, Pa., Artsbridge at Riverrun in Lambertville, Perkins Center for the Arts in Moorestown, TAWA at Ellarslie, Phillips Mill, Abington Art Center in Jenkintown, and her work is in public and private collections. Recently, she completed a series of paintings dedicated to the memory of Frank Everett, a gifted individual whose quality of life came to be measured by T-cells. She has included several of these works in the show.

The Studio Gallery is located at 57 Princeton Avenue, Hopewell. Gallery hours are 10 to 5, Tuesday through Saturday, and Sunday by appointment.

An exhibit of bronze castings by Henry Klimowicz and mixed media sculptures by Alena Ort are on display in Lounge B of Conant Hall

Scott to Replace Hill As Assistant PU Coach

Joe Scott, one of the top point guards ever to play for Pete Carril, has been named a full-time assistant basketball coach at Princeton University.

Scott has been a volunteer assistant at Princeton for the past three years after spending one year as an assistant coach at Monmouth College. He replaces Armond Hill, another former Tiger great, who left earlier this spring to become the head coach at Columbia University.

"It's why I went into coaching, to become a full-time assistant," Scott said. "I put my time in, and I like working for Coach Carril. I liked playing for him, and I like working with him and Coach [Bill] Carmody. I'm excited about the opportunity."

Scott, a 1987 Princeton graduate, was a three-year starter at point guard under Carril. He played on Princeton's 1983-84 Ivy League championship team as a freshman, and he went on to be named honorable mention All-Ivy as a junior and second-team All-Ivy as a senior. He scored 809 points in his career, and he hit a then-school record seven three-point field goals against Penn in 1987.

"It's like keeping it in the family," Carril said. "Joe is one of the great players we've had here. He knows all about Princeton basketball, and he knows about paying to go to college while playing basketball."

Scott attended Notre Dame Law School after leaving Princeton and worked briefly for the firm of Ribis, Graham and Curtin after earning his law degree in 1990. He also participated in the storied Notre Dame Bookstore Basketball Tournament, leading his team to the championship and earning Most Valuable Player honors for two straight years.

Dave Kahney Is Honored At PU Baseball Banquet

Princeton University senior Dave Kahney was awarded two of the most prestigious awards available last week, during the annual baseball banquet.

In addition, Frank Biondi, class of 1966, current president and CEO of Viacom, and former Princeton baseball player, was honored for his accomplishments off the playing field with the Robert L. Peters Jr. Award. The award is given annually to an alumnus for "significant contributions to the athletic community and later-life accomplishments."

community and later-life accomplishments."

Kahney, captain of the 1995 squad, was presented with the William J. Clarke Baseball trophy and the Edward J. Donovan Baseball Award. The first honors the best all-around player on both offense and defense. The second goes to the team's most valuable pitcher.

Kahney, who started in right field when he was not pitching, hit .293 this season and .331 in his career. He led the team on the mound as well, with five wins, a 3.51 ERA, two saves, and 49 strikeouts. In Ivy League play, his numbers were even more impressive: he hit .400 and posted a 1.91 ERA.

Shortstop Joe Quinn garnered the Coach's Baseball Trophy, which goes to the sophomore who shows "the greatest aptitude and improvement during the season."

Junior outfielder Todd Kata won the Frederick W. Kafer Baseball Trophy,

Here's an amazing baseball fact ... A player named Bobby Lowe set a major-league home run record over 100 years ago, in 1894 — and despite all the great home run hitters in all the years since then, no one has EVER broken that record ... The record Lowe set was hitting 4 home runs in one big league game ... A few players over the years have tied that record — but no one has ever broken it.

One of the most unusual home runs in baseball history happened May 26, 1993 when Cleveland batter Carlos Martinez hit a high fly ball to right field ... The ball bounced off the head of Texas outfielder Jose Canseco, and went over the fence for a homer.

Could you afford the expense of a nursing home for your parents? Call SDB for the answer.

The smallest person ever to play in a big league baseball game was Eddie Gaedel ... Gaedel, who stood 3 feet, 7 inches tall was signed to pinch hit in the American League in 1951 ... He had just one at bat, and with the shortest-ever major-league strike zone, he drew a base on balls.

PHS Girls' Lacrosse Not Dimmed by Losses

The PHS girls' lacrosse team was surely suffering some disappointment after losing their final two games of the season, but after the initial sting disappears, they'll be able to remember, with satisfaction, a year in which they were one of the best teams in Mercer County.

PHS fell to Shawnee, the team ranked No. 2 in the state, 12-5 last Tuesday. The loss was Princeton's third on the year, and eliminated them from the state tournament.

On Thursday, they fell 16-9 to West Windsor-Plainsboro, as the Pirates avenged a 14-10 loss earlier in the season. The WW-P loss left the Tigers' season record at 7-4-1.

Against Shawnee, PHS held its own for the first half. Princeton University-bound Sheri Durkee, the team's leading scorer, netted one of SIMPLY SMASHING: PHS senior Adam Breo, who anchored the tennis team's first singles slot and served as co-captain this year, is one of the reasons the squad won the CJI championship and advanced to the state title match last week. He will be a freshman at Penn State in the fall.

her three goals with seconds ship, and brought them to the remaining in the first frame brink of a state title before it to make the halftime score 4-3 in favor of Shawnee.

The Renegades changed over Somerville and Rumson the feel of the match early in Fair Haven in the preliminary rounds, the Tigers faced five unanswered goals to Holmdel, the team that open the half, and just ran eliminated them from the away from the Tigers, build-state tournament last year. ing up a 12-5 lead before the final buzzer.

Jordan Neas netted the Tigers' other two goals, and Rebecca Abrams made 19 saves in the cage.

Against West Windsor on Thursday, the PHS offense couldn't keep up. WW-P jumped out to a 9-5 lead in the first half, and finished the Tigers off with a 6-4 second half.

The 16-9 defeat closed the season for Princeton and closed the PHS careers of seniors Sheri Durkee and Jordan Neas, and Katerina Kucera.

Durkee led the team with four goals against WW-P, and Neas scored two. They end the year as the team's two highest goals-scorers. Durkee netted 65 this season, and Neas scored 46.

CJII Champ PHS Tennis Defeated in State Final

The momentum built up over a perfect regular season carried the Princeton High tennis team to the Central Jersey Group II champion-

Few of the Tigers' opponents have taken them to the final match this year, but in the few cases when they did, PHS supporters learned to hope that Will Goldfarb was playing that last match.

The junior third singles player has come up with some clutch wins this year, but his three set victory over Holmdel's Greg Weiner was probably the biggest.

The two teams were tied at 2-2, and Goldfarb and his opponent had split the first two sets — both in tiebreakers. Weiner won the first set 7-6 (7-2), but Goldfarb battled back in the second, winning 7-6 (8-6).

Perhaps Weiner was demoralized after the close second set, maybe he was tired, or maybe Goldfarb had just figured him out. Whatever the case, the third set was nothing like the first two. Goldfarb won it 6-0 to give PHS the win and the CJII title.

Nikhil Mavinkurve, at second singles, and the second doubles team of Dan Sulei-man and Mark Vovsi had posted the other two wins for PHS. Mavinkurve triumphed 6-4, 6-3. Vovsi and Suleiman, who have only lost once this year, cruised to a 6-1, 6-0 win.

State Final

PHS warmed up for the state finals by whipping Hamilton 5-0 last Wednesday in a match that requires little comment in this space.

Their opponent in the semifinal round of the tournament was Moorestown, whom the Tigers topped 3¹/₂-1¹/₂.

At first singles, Adam Breo survived a very tough first set, pulling out the tiebreaker by an 8-6 score. His opponent practically packed his bags after that, and Breo cruised to a 6-0 win in the second set.

Mavinkurve split a pair of tiebreaker sets before they settled on a draw, the rest of the match being complete and Princeton's win assured.

Goldfarb ran into trouble at third singles, losing 6-0, 6-2 to Jeff Kingston.

Vovsi and Suleiman took their match in typical fashion, winning 6-4, 6-2.

Yoshiki Obayashi and Jesse Antin, at second doubles, had a tougher time but came out on top in a three-set battle.

In the final, the Tigers lined up against Millburn, the defending Group II champions and winners of last year's Tournament of Champions winner. It was the Millers who came out ahead, successfully defending their title with a 4-1 win.

For PHS, only Vovsi and Suleiman could manage a win. The rest of the Tigers went down in straight sets.

"It was a little disappointing losing in the final like that," said PHS coach Joe Diefenbach, whose team was 22-0 prior to the Millburn match.

"That's probably the best record we've ever had going into the finals," said Diefenbach. "It's been a great season."

PHS will lose three seniors to graduation this year: Breo heads to Penn State, Suleiman to Harvard, and Antin to Brown.

"Adam and Dan have been varsity players for three years, and Jesse was a really good find for us this season," said Diefenbach. "We're going to miss them."

IN THE CLUTCH, the player PHS has often counted on this year is William Goldfarb. The junior third singles player came up with a big three-set win against Holmdel last week to clinch the CJI title for the Tigers.

He is not, however, concerned about his squad's ability to compete next year. "We'll have four veterans back, so we won't be in too bad shape."

PHS Nine Close Season With Rare Pair of Wins

The Princeton High baseball team may have waited all season to do it, but they were finally able to string together a pair of wins.

The Tigers topped Bordentown on Tuesday, pushing the winner across in the bottom of the seventh. On Thursday, they scored a surprise win over Hamilton, beating the Hornets 5-4.

The week did not start out auspiciously. The Tigers were beaten 10-0 by Hopewell Valley on Tuesday. Nathan Dean and Scott Muzyk each went 2-for-3. Rich Bliss pitched three innings and took the loss.

The Tigers reversed a trend on Thursday. After losing a number of one-run games this season, they rallied in the bottom of the seventh inning to beat Bordentown. The visitors had taken a 3-2 lead in the fourth inning, but single runs in the fifth and seventh made the difference for PHS.

Senior Mike Nolan was the star for PHS. He was 1-for-2 with a triple and three runs scored. Mike Nolan was 2-for-4 with an RBI.

Muzyk took a break from right field to throw two innings in relief of Ray Tucholski, and came away with the win.

In spite of collecting only four hits and committing six errors, the Tigers were able to surprise heavily-favored Hamilton 5-4 on Thursday.

Berkman struck out seven in 5²/₃ innings while earning

Hun Girls' Crew Wins National Competition

The Hun School girls' lightweight four-with-cox crew topped their undefeated season last week-end by winning a national title.

The Raider crew beat all comers in the Scholastic Rowing Association of America's annual regatta, which was held on their home water, Mercer Lake.

The Raiders, who owned the title in 1993, beat their nearest competitors by more than 12 seconds, finishing the 1,500-meter course in 6:27.80.

The members of the boat are seniors Jill Espaillat, Christina Krauthammer, and Melissa Christine, junior Alison Kale, and freshman coxswain Erica Chawla.

Hun's Wayne Slappy Jr., and Bill Jones placed second in the men's pair, a week after winning the Stotesbury Regatta.

Senior Jeff Tatum hurled 1½ innings of scoreless relief, striking out two, walking none, and allowing only a single hit.

Rob Scalabrino was 1-for-1 with a double and three RBIs.

The Tigers end the season with a 5-13 record.

Princeton Softball 0-for-2 In Oklahoma City Series

The Princeton University softball team, seeded eighth in a field of eight, lost its first two games last weekend and was eliminated from the Women's College World Series.

The Tigers, who won a spot in the series by sweeping the Ivy League, winning a play-in against Northeast Conference champ Rider University, and then blowing through the Regional Tournament undefeated, met their board earlier than Princeton, and had been beaten by Cal State - Fullerton in the first round, 1-0.

The Rebels got on the board earlier than Princeton, scoring a single run in the third inning to take a 1-0 lead.

They and the Tigers were the Tigers a game with both silent again until the top of the sixth inning, when the defending champion Rebels pushed one more Wildcats demonstrated why across.

second inning. Mandy Pfeiffer knocked a lead-off double, and an errant throw to second landed her safely on third base. A fly to center on Amy Whelan's at-bat sent Pfeiffer home with the Tigers' only run.

Sophomore pitcher Maureen Davies was tagged for back-to-back home runs in the fifth inning, making the score 8-1 Arizona. The Wildcats were able to push one more run across before the Tigers could find the third out, and the game was stopped.

Pfeiffer had a single to go with her double, and Traci Fox had two hits.

Second Round Play

In the second game of their double elimination tournament, the Tigers faced the University of Nevada — Las Vegas. UNLV came into the tournament seeded fourth, and had been beaten by Cal State - Fullerton in the first round, 1-0.

The Rebels got on the board earlier than Princeton, scoring a single run in the third inning to take a 1-0 lead.

Stacy Thurber beat out a week grounder to short, which scored Christie, bringing Michelle Morale to the plate.

After falling behind 1-2, Morale swung at the third strike to end the game.

UNLV would go on to lose to Arizona in a semifinal match, while No. 2 seed UCLA beat Iowa 5-0 to advance. The Bruins took the title from Arizona on Monday afternoon, in a game that ended 4-2.

Princeton ends the season with an all-sports school record for total wins in a season (49). The Tigers' record was 49-13.

Raiders Lose Prep "A" On Seventh-Inning Error

As Yogi Berra never really said, "It's like deja vu all over again."

The Hun baseball team has progressed to the state Prep "A" final for the last two years, and in both cases, has lost the title on a late-inning fielding error.

The Raiders were locked in a scoreless, nearly hitless battle with Lawrenceville going into the seventh inning last Tuesday.

Mike Geiger, the Raider ace, had allowed only one hit in six innings when he walked the Larries' Corey Floyd to lead off the seventh. Floyd stole second base, as Geiger struck out the next batter.

A THREE-PEAT FOR THE PANTHERS: It may be premature to call it a dynasty, but the Princeton Day lacrosse team has now won the Prep B title three straight years under coach Tom Griffith. Front row: Mark Gray, Ren Thompson, Jeff Overman, Danny Knipe, Matt Ross and Kevin Meehan. Second row: Ben Holmuth, Elliot Shuke, Mike O'Neill, Alex Vincent, Brian Rappaport, Jeff Schor, Robert Lee, Kevin Gallagher, Ian Wijaya, Byron Taylor, Damien Robertson, Mark Chatham, Wes Steffens, Roy Lynam and coach Griffith. With the go-ahead run on second, Geiger's opposite number stepped to the plate. Lawrenceville's pitcher, Chris LaCamera, had been as impressive as Geiger throughout the first two innings, allowing the Raiders only one hit.

LaCamera hit a grounder to shortstop Chris Moraitis, who fielded and threw to first for the out. Waiting on second, Floyd broke for third base as soon as Moraitis released the ball.

Hoping to get Floyd at third and end the inning, first baseman Shawn Summers skipped the ball past third baseman Pete Richardson, allowing Floyd to score the game's only run.

Summers led off the bottom of the seventh with a walk, but LaCamera closed down three Raiders that followed, ending the game.

Geiger's one-hitter, although it resulted in a loss, was an example of the fine pitching he has provided all season. The senior lefty ends the year with an 8-2 record. Against Lawrenceville, he struck out six and walked four. The only hit allowed in his complete-game performance was a lead-off single in the second inning.

Hun coach Bill McQuade's squad ends the season with a 12-9 overall record.

Lacrosse, Soccer Camps Available at Hun School

Two sports camps will be offered this summer on the Hun School campus. The Hun School/Princeton Tigers Lacrosse Day Camp and the Hun School Soccer Training Camp are now accepting applications.

The Lacrosse Day Camp will operate from July 17 to 21 and is open to boys between the ages of 8 and 18. The camp will run from 9:30 to 3:30. Staff will be Bill Tierney, Princeton University's head lacrosse coach; his assistants David Metzbowler and Jim Lyons; and some of the finest college shown how to read them, make sense of them, and work their peculiar patterns into a richer understanding of the human drama."

Newsman and author, Robert B. W. MacNeil received an honorary doctor of laws degree. The executive editor and co-anchor of the Public Broadcasting Services' The MacNeil/Lehrer News-Hour, Mr. MacNeil has "satisfied our ever-urgent curiosity to know 'what's new' — and redefined our fundamental understanding of 'what's news.' History in the making is his story..." stated his citation.

An honorary doctor of fine arts degree was conferred upon Wynton Marsalis, trumpet virtuoso, musician, and composer. "Whether evoking the classical canon or advancing the frontier of the blues, his music speaks directly to the heart, mind, and the soul," read the citation for Mr. Marsalis.

Other recipients of honorary degrees were Stanley S. Bergen, Jr., President of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, who received an honorary doctor of laws; Sadako Ogata, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees and former Professor of Diplomatic History and International Relations at the International Christian University of Japan, honorary doctor of laws;

Also, John M. Prausnitz, Professor of Chemical Engineering, University of California, Berkeley, author of numerous research articles and books, and recipient of many awards, honorary doctor of science.

Distinguished Teaching

The 1995 President's Distinguished Teaching Awards were presented to four members of the Princeton faculty. The recipients were Barbara Browning, assistant professor of English; Georgios Deodatis, assistant professor of civil engineering and operations research; Stanley Kelley, professor of politics; and Kenneth Levy, Scheide professor of music history.

Professors Levy and Kelley transfer to emeritus status with the completion of the academic year.

Each winner receives a cash prize of $2,500, while his or her home department receives an additional $2,500 for the purchase of new books.

Four prizes for Distinguished Secondary Teaching in the State of New Jersey were also awarded. Conferees were Maria Cording of Elmwood Park Memorial Junior-Senior High School, Nancy Falong of Hackettstown High School, Irene Fineberg of Absegami High School, and Michael Rosenthal of Randolph High School.

The prizes consist of $4,000 for each teacher and $2,000 for each teacher's school for library books.

In keeping with long tradition, the two principal Commencement speeches, the valedictory and Latin salutatory addresses, were delivered by members of the graduating class, selected on the basis of academic standing by a faculty committee.

Valedictorian

The valedictorian, Allison Kalben of Trumbull, Conn., is a chemistry major. The salutatorian is John Van De Weert, a classics major, from Dryden, N.Y.

President Harold T. Shapiro delivered concluding remarks in which he referred to the 50th anniversary of the end of World War II and the impact that that war had on future generations. In particular, he commented on the passage of the G.I. Bill, noting that "for the first time a society declared that a worthy reward for returning soldiers would take the form of an educational opportunity."

Remarking that the optimism of the aftermath of World War II, especially regarding education, science and technology, has been followed by skepticism and doubt, Dr. Shapiro suggested that history has shown that periods of optimism and skepticism often seem to alternate.

He encouraged graduates not be pessimistic about the future role of education and of science and technology, and finally, he noted, "It is today's graduates who will need to help society decide just where to place its faith and effort. It is now your responsibility to think carefully about current circumstances and the world that you would like to construct."

—Jean Stratton

BUSINESS

NAFTA Coordinator To Address Chamber

On Thursday, John M. Weekes, Canada's senior assistant deputy minister for the United States and coordinator for the North American Free Trade Agreement, will speak at the Chamber of Commerce of the Princeton Area general membership luncheon at the Scanticon-Princeton.

Mr. Weekes was previously Ambassador to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) in Geneva. His presentation will give an incisive picture of the future of international trade and will review the excellent relationship between Canada and the United States; examine recent developments in trade policy in the light of the creation of the World Trade Organization (WTO) and NAFTA; and look to the future of greater regionalization of trade in the Americas.

Mr. Weekes will also discuss the similarity of problems facing the Federal governments in the U.S. and Canada and will highlight the advantages of doing business with, and investing in, Canada.

A reception at 11:30 will be followed by luncheon at noon. For reservations, call the Chamber, 520-1776. Cost is $20 for members and $29 for other guests.

OBITUARIES

Ruth Adams Lotz, a longtime Princeton resident and former guidance counselor at Princeton Middle School, died May 23 at home in Lawrenceville after a long illness caused by cancer. She was 76.

Born in Philadelphia, Mrs. Lotz was valedictorian of Camden High School Class of 1935 and valedictorian of Douglass College Class of 1939 where she majored in English and music. She returned to Rutgers and received her master's of education in 1961 and began counseling at the Quarry Street School that fall. She retired from the Princeton Regional School System in 1983 after 23 years and moved to Lawrenceville in 1986.

Ruth A. Lotz

Mrs. Lotz began her teaching career at Woodbridge Vocational School in 1939 and moved to Nutley in 1946 where she became active in the Civil Rights movement. She co-founded the Nutley Human Relations Council to promote ethnic and cultural understanding and was a member of the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, SANE and the Progressive Party.

In Princeton, Mrs. Lotz co-founded the Princeton Study Center and served on the Princeton Juvenile Conference Committee for many years. She was the author of one of the first studies of disparity in opportunities and achievement between black students and white students in the Princeton School System.

She was a member of the Unitarian Church since 1962 and until recently was a member of the church's Women's Alliance and the Adult Choir. She also served on the church's board of trustees.

Surviving are a son, David of New York City; a daughter, Deborah Dinyes of Tempe, Ariz.; and two grandchildren, Will and Jessica Dinyes, also of Tempe.

A memorial service will be held Sunday, June 25, at 2 p.m. at the Unitarian Church. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Hospice Program at Princeton Medical Center, the New Jersey Capital Area Chapter of the American Red Cross, or another charity.

Earl T. Jones, 56, died Friday at the Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Trenton, Mr. Jones was a lifelong Princeton resident.

He was employed with the state Department of Transportation as a civil engineer before retiring in 1994. He was a graduate of Trenton Junior College and the Indiana Institute of Technology. Mr. Jones was an Air Force veteran.

Son of the late Earl K. Jones, he is survived by his mother, Helen M. Jones of Princeton; two sisters and brothers-in-law, Audrey and Charles Murray of Lawrenceville and Dolores and Robert J. Hoch of Titusville; an uncle, Thomas Nolan of Whiting; two nieces, Patty Murray of Lawrenceville and Leslie Hoch of Maine; a nephew, Rob J. Hoch of Titusville; and several cousins.

Burial will be in Princeton Memorial Park on Wednesday.

Memorial contributions may be made to St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, 214 Nassau Street, Princeton 08540.

Capt. Kenneth W. Levens, 36, who was assigned to the 9th Fighter Squadron at Holloman Air Force Base in Alamogordo, N.M., died May 11 when his F-117A Nighthawk crashed near Zuni, N.M.

Capt. Levens graduated in 1980 with an associate of arts degree from Western Texas College and a bachelor of science degree in agricultural finance from Texas Tech University. He was a distinguished graduate of Squadron Officer's School in 1989 and recently completed a master's degree in aeronautical science in management from Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University.

In December, 1989, Capt. Levens reported to MacDill Air Force Base in Florida to train in the F-16 Fighting Falcon. He was named top performer in air-to-surface weapons delivery and won the student bombing competition. He traveled to Kunsan Air Base, Korea, in 1990 for a remote tour with the 80th Tactical Fighter Squadron.

He returned to the United States in 1991 to join the 69th Fighter Squadron at Moody Air Force Base, Georgia, where he was the wing's expert in low altitude navigation and night infrared targeting. He was qualified in every wing mission and F-16 system.

From June to December, 1993, Capt. Levens was deployed to the 4404th Composite Wing, Dhahran, Air Base, Saudi Arabia, to support Operation Southern Watch, where he flew 40 combat sorties into Iraq. He joined Holloman Air Force Base last October. He became a Flying Knight in February, and in March checked out as exceptionally qualified to carry out the tactical mission of the F-117A Nighthawk.

Capt. Levens was a senior pilot with more than 2,400 hours of total flying time in the T-37, T-38, F-16 and F-117A. He had received many awards.

He is survived by his wife, the former Cathy S. Cifelli of Princeton and a daughter, Jacie Lynn. Mrs. Levens is pregnant with the couple's second child.

A memorial service was held at the Holloman Air Force Base chapel, with burial in Anson, Tex.

A memorial fund has been established for Capt. Levens' wife and children. Contributions may be sent to the Ken Levens Memorial Fund, c/o Capt. Russell A. Viera, 9th Fighter Squadron, 1203 Bong Street, Holloman AFB, N.M. 88330-7917.

William A. Kintner Sr., 90, of Hopewell, died May 22 at Princeton Medical Center. Born in Hopewell Township, he was a lifelong area resident.

Mr. Kintner retired as an engineer with the Penn Central Railroad after 40 years of service. He was a member of the 39ers Senior Citizens group.

Surviving are his wife, Kathryn Drake Kintner; a son, William Kintner of Hopewell; a sister, Mary Carkhuff of Hopewell; a sister-in-law, Maud Drake Gray; and several nieces and nephews.

A graveside service was held Thursday in Highland Cemetery, Hopewell, the Rev. Kenneth Robinson, pastor of Hopewell United Methodist Church, officiating. Memorial contributions may be made to the Hopewell Fire and Rescue Squad, Columbia Avenue, Hopewell 08525.

Emily R. Sachs, 19, a Princeton Day School graduate in the Class of 1993, died May 24 of asthma at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia. Born in Trenton, she lived in Yardley, Pa., most of her life.

Miss Sachs was a sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority and the Arts House. An accomplished ballet and modern dancer, she was the recipient of many awards in regional and New York City dance competitions. She participated in "Dance Excellence" in New York and in

Memorial Gathering

Suffer from seasonal allergies? Acupuncture is a highly effective way to treat pollen-related sneezing and wheezing. Very fine needles, inserted into specific points on the body and face, help build the body's natural immune system. Seasonal allergies can be significantly relieved in 3-5 one-hour sessions. Traditional Chinese medicine has a 3,000 year track record of successfully treating: hay fever, sinus headaches, and asthma.

ORIENTAL RUGS

We continue to receive carefully selected pile rugs and runners produced by the Ersari/Turkmen and Tibetan Weaving Projects. These projects are supported by Cultural Survival, a human rights organization located in Cambridge, MA.

The rugs are handwoven by adult weavers using vegetal dyes and traditional 19th Century designs and colors. Articles in the Oriental Rug review have praised their overall quality.

"East of the Bosphorus" also carries antique rugs, flatweaves, and other textiles from many areas in the Middle East and Asia.

BROOKVILLE HOLLOW ROAD STOCKTON

In the beautiful rolling countryside of Delaware Township, a picturesque road winds past country estates and this stunning Contemporary. On a hill approached by a long driveway, soft-toned vertical cedar siding blends with the 6 acres of woodland around it. Built in 1990, only the finest materials and systems were used. A sheltered entry opens to a foyer skylit from windows more than 2 stories above, a windowed living room and the dining room. The superb kitchen is the heart of the house, pine panelled even in the peaked ceiling. A marble-faced fireplace graces the sitting area and a door gives access to a deck. Adjoining is a large solarium with a hot tub. Two bedrooms and a bath complete the first floor. Two stairways lead to the second floor. A spacious library overlooks the kitchen and foyer, the master bedroom has its own bath and a deck.
Another bedroom has a bath. Customized features such as the Italian tile flooring, oak cabinets and trim, lofty ceilings, and many windows and skylights, add drama to this spectacular house. $478,000

MAKING OUR PRESENCE KNOWN IN THE PRINCETON AREA

APPLEWOOD

A home that knows no compromise. A remarkable blend of authentic character with luxurious amenities. Architecturally perfect, aesthetically grand with attention to detail, no expense has been spared to update this classic. From the elegant living and dining rooms, inviting foyer, to the professional kitchen and updated baths, pride in quality construction and structural integrity is apparent.

The landscape is a botanical garden of flowering trees and shrubs, broad sweeping lawns, perennial gardens and flowers. Enjoy the four and one half acres of this magnificent scenery while relaxing in the heated pool and spa.

This location offers the quiet enjoyment of country life with the small "Currier and Ives" type towns of Hopewell and Pennington to the west. The excitement of Princeton, with the University, shops, businesses and activities are a few minutes north along the bike paths and walking trails. (Lawrenceville/Princeton address).

This home is wheelchair accessible.*
